Heard, Norris Leaving Posts At Mid-Week

West Monroe City Court Apparently To Be Judgeless

West Monroe's administrative and judicial functions, after next Wednesday, apparently will be at their lowest ebb in the history of the city.

In an opinion released yesterday by Attorney General Fred S. LeBlanc, Judge Howell Heard will no longer be in office. And though no attorney general's opinion has been made public on the status of Mayor Allen Norris his case will probably parallel that of Heard's.

Both officials were affirmed as illegal office holders by the Louisiana Supreme Court after its review of an earlier ouster by the district court. Their appointments, by Gov. Robert F. Kennon, were ruled illegal because more than one year remained in the unexpired terms they were appointed to fill.

An appeal case now before the second circuit appellate court is expected to unsettle three Kennon-appointed, aldermen. The appeals court has indicated that its action in the aldermanic cases would probably parallel the higher court ruling on the judge and mayor.

Meanwhile, election machinery will be oiled up in preparation for a special primary to fill the seats held by the ousted officials.

After reading the attorney general's ruling yesterday Judge Heard issued the following statement: "I have no choice other than to follow the law as expressed in the ruling of the attorney general in his letter to me. I will not be in office or discharge the duties of judge of the city court of West Monroe after the supreme court decision becomes final."

"The judgment of the supreme court will become final at the end of April 25 unless an application for a rehearing is filed. I will be a candidate for election to the office when an election is called."

Attorney General LeBlanc's letter, on which Heard's comment was based, is as follows: "Reference is made to your letter of April 20 relative to your right not to continue to serve as city judge of West Monroe pending the selection of a city judge at the election ordered to be held by the district court of Ouachita parish in the suit of the state ex rel. ## Engineers Find Mystery Object In Tug Search

MORGAN CITY, La., April 25—UP—U.S. Engineers said Saturday searchers had found a large unidentified object in the deep waters of the Atchafalaya River near here in their search for the 70-ton P. N. Ellis which sank Thursday carrying six men to their deaths.

The object was in 75 to 80 feet of water and is not a hazard to navigation, said Harry J. Holos, who is heading the search.

The tug's owners, Koch-Ellis Marine Contractors, Inc., of New Orleans will conduct any further work, Holos added.

Three men, Capt. Paul Dubois of Algiers, La., Leroy Cannon of Slidell and Sidney Trahan of New Orleans, escaped when the tug became fouled in barge lines and sank.

The others were trapped inside, some asleep. Coast Guard officials Thursday abandoned hope for LeBlanc Bence of St. Gabriel, Quintan Mabry of Jefferson parish; Harry N. Lewis of New Orleans, Curtis Campbell of Kaplan, George W. Ackermann of St. Paul, Minn., and Horace Fleming of Nebraska City, Neb.

Monroe Dentist Due To Address Society

NEW ORLEANS, April 25—UP—The Louisiana State Dental Society will open its 73rd annual meeting Wednesday.

Dr. Charles Bartola, president, said today the four-day meeting would start with a golf tournament at the Metairie Country Club.

The meeting will end Saturday. Speakers will include Dr. W. R. Alstadt, Little Rock, Ark.; Dr. Claude Earnest, Monroe; Dr. S. S. Wald, New York City, and Dr. William John Healey, New Orleans.

Kansas Governor Sees Early Okay On Tideland Bill

NEW ORLEANS, April 25—UP—Gov. Edward Arn of Kansas predicted Saturday that Congress will approve legislation "in the very near future" giving tidelands oil to the states.

He made the statement in a speech before representatives and governors of 26 oil-producing states who are attending the spring meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission here.

"It now appears that the so-called tidelands question will finally be resolved in accordance with the program long advocated by the Interstate Oil Compact Commission and by all those who have been alert to the dangers of an expanding federal bureaucracy," he said.

The Kansas governor, who is chairman of the commission, also called in his quarterly report for a reduction in oil imports which he said are becoming "a serious menace to this country's economy."

Local Man Named Law Group Official

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 25—UP—The president of the American Bar Association said today a good public relations program should be the most important objective of all bar associations.

Robert G. Storey of Dallas told the final session of the Louisiana Bar Association convention here that they should develop a program in which a true picture of the work of lawyers can be presented in a dignified manner.

Richard B. Montgomery of New Orleans was installed as the new president of the association at the session, succeeding Alvin O. King. Other officers installed were Thomas W. Leigh of Monroe, vice-president, and Robert E. LeCorgne Jr., New Orleans, secretary-treasurer.

Heavy Rains Sog Many Sections Of Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, April 25—UP—Driving rains and thunderstorms hit Louisiana and Mississippi last night and today in the wake of windstorms which raked much of the two states.

The southern parts of the two states were the hardest hit, with several cities reporting rainfall of more than six inches. Several cities in the northern halves of the states reported between one and three inches.

Highest rainfall reported was at Pearl River, La., near the Mississippi line. The town had 7.2 inches in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a. m.

New Orleans, Crowley, La., and Union, Miss., each got six inches. Most of the rain in New Orleans fell in a two-hour period.

Readings for other Louisiana cities were Lake Charles 5.08, Lafayette 3.76, Baton Rouge 3.10, Alexandria 2.16, Monroe 1.51 and Shreveport half an inch.

In Mississippi, other readings were Biloxi 3.20, Jackson 1.70, Natchez 2.45, Meridian 2.34, Crystal Springs 2.05, Vicksburg 1.91, Tupelo 1.54, Greenville 1.49, Yazoo City 1.47, Hattiesburg 3.20, Purvis 3.0, Monticello 3.65, Aberdeen 1.24 and Columbus one inch.

Plane Downed, Solons Jolted At A-Bomb Blast

Radio-Active Minerals Fall On Nearby Road

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 25 (AP)—A drone plane crashed after being caught in the furious updraft of an atomic explosion which jolted 14 awed congressmen and 2,650 maneuvering troops early today.

The shot, touched off from a 300-foot tower at 4:30 a. m., was described by observers as the most powerful of the spring series. Win-

Hot Cars

Radio-active material fell to the ground from the atomic cloud across a narrow band covering portions of U. S. Highways 93 and 91 near Glendale and Alamo, small Nevada farming communities 100 miles east of test site.

When scientists discovered this, roadblocks were set up on those highways to check passing vehicles and their occupants to learn if either had been contaminated with harmful radiation from the "fallout."

Forty five cars were halted at North Las Vegas and four were found to be "hot" and had to be decontaminated by a thorough washing down.

dows rattled in this resort town, 75 miles southeast of Yucca Flat test site. And the flash was seen in San Francisco, 600 miles away.

Among 52 aircraft, including B47 and B50 bombers, aloft over the A-bomb range was an AD2 drone. Such aircraft carry instruments to obtain scientific data. Controlled from the ground, the drone attempted to pierce the thermal envelope—the fast-rising cone from the explosion.

Trapped in the raging updraft, the plane tossed helplessly and finally crashed.

After the searing heat blasts, the troops scrambled from trenches 4,000 yards from ground zero and advanced until radioactivity stopped them. Eight volunteer observers huddled in trenches and undisclosed distance nearer the blast, the seventh of the series. There were no casualties.

Murder Case Is Passed To Jury At Jena

JENA, La., April 25—(Special)—the local murder case against which defense Counsel Warren Hunt of Rayville termed "has alienated and torn asunder friends and families of two old and distinguished LaSalle parish families," was given to the jury tonight shortly before 10 p. m.

Allied Prisoners Die By Thousands In Red Camps, Say Returnees

PEEK AT PLAN—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, right, gave the nation a peek at his celebrated secret plan for ending the war in Korea. The former Far East Supreme Commander revealed his proposals in a 1,500-word letter to Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), left, who had queried him on ammunition shortages in Korea. Main feature of the letter: A threat to bomb Red China. "A warning of action of this sort provides the leverage to induce the Soviets to bring the Korean struggle to an end without further bloodshed," MacArthur said. (NEA Telephoto)

Rites Held For Charles Collier, Slain Planter

FERRIDAY, April 25 (Special)—Services were held Saturday at 10 a. m. in Young's Funeral chapel here for Charles Collier, 55, prominent Concordia parish planter and former member of the parish police jury, who was fatally wounded by a neighbor, Robert W. Clayton, Jr., 24, Friday afternoon.

The men were in the midst of an argument over a property line on the edge of Tensas parish.

Rev. Ben Collins and Rev. Don Alverson officiated, and after the services the body was taken overland to Lawrenceburg, Tenn. Interment will take place there Sunday at 2 p. m.

Meantime, Sheriff Elliott D. Coleman of Tensas parish, where the shooting took place, released young Clayton on his own recognizance and he furnished bond Saturday pending investigation of the case by the Tensas parish grand jury.

According to Sheriff Coleman, Collier was contending that a property line which had been surveyed for Clayton, was incorrect and that he had made several calls on Clayton to try to get the line changed.

He said that Collier had made two calls on Thursday morning and used rough language and made some threats to Clayton.

He added that he had previously (Continued On Fifth Page)

Arraignment Set In Slaying Case

ST. JOSEPH, La., April 25—UP—District Attorney Thompson L. Clarke said today that Robert Clayton Jr. will be arraigned before the Tensas Parish grand jury at St. Joseph May 6 in connection with the slaying of Charles Collier, 55.

Clarke said the 24-year-old Clayton was charged with manslaughter.

Sheriff Elliot Coleman of Tensas Parish said Collier was shot yesterday on a plantation north of Clayton, in Tensas Parish. He died in a Ferriday hospital two hours later.

Coleman said Collier had been involved in a property line dispute with neighboring landowners.

Officials In O. Grove Go Republican

OAK GROVE, April 25 (Special)—Nucleus of a two-party system in Oak Grove was officially established here today when Oak Grove's Mayor Donald B. Fiske and three members of the aldermanic council changed their voting registration from Democratic to Republican.

The four men announced jointly that their change of party affiliation was for the sole purpose of instituting a two-party system.

Aldermen who changed their registrations along with the mayor were W. Dean McCormick, who is serving his 12th year as an alderman, and W. I. Rush and Norman Craig, who are serving their first terms.

Aldermen who have not changed their party affiliation are W. O. James and Don Moseley.

City officials pointed out that the terms of the mayor and five aldermen will expire next year and that primary elections will be held in April, 1954, for the purpose of filling the posts. Since they have chosen to become Republicans, none of the four men will be eligible to enter the Democratic primary for mayor and aldermanic posts and their entire hopes for gaining re-election will hinge on the general election. Ordinarily, in Louisiana, general elections have had little meaning, as nomination in the Democratic primaries has been tantamount to election.

Mayor Fiske and Alderman McCormick, speaking in behalf of the group, said they had definitely (Continued On Fifth Page)

Three Persons Killed In State Car Mishaps

NEW ORLEANS, April 25—UP—Traffic accidents killed at least three persons in Louisiana during the past 24 hours ending at 2 p. m. Saturday, a survey showed.

The victims were Karl Bahr, 19, New Orleans; Albert Simcox, 55, Poydras, and G. C. Cole, Lafayette.

Bahr died at New Orleans early Saturday when his automobile went out of control on a slippery street, sideswiped another car and smashed into a tree.

Conference At Northeast Is Well Attended

Counting attendance at all three sessions, an estimated total of 900 persons attended the Northeast sociology conference held here Friday and Saturday in the college auditorium. Main speaker at the event, the first of its kind to be held at the local college, was Dr. H. C. Brearley, head of the sociology department at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Brearley spoke before some 350 persons in a night session Friday, and discussed pertinent problems with two groups Saturday morning and afternoon. Guest at the Saturday morning session was H. S. Bankston, mental health expert with the Louisiana Department of Education.

Music was furnished at the various sessions by the Northeast State chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Velma Wiley of the college faculty, tenor soloist Jennings Wilkins, and Eloy Fominaya, violin and strings instructor here.

Penitentiary Plans Shaping For Angola

CROWLEY, La., April 25—UP—Reed Cozart, assistant director of the state Department of Institutions, said today that final plans may be approved Monday for a new penitentiary at Angola.

Cozart, who is in charge of the department's penal and correctional institutions, said he hopes the plans will provide the atmosphere and facilities for criminals to rehabilitate themselves.

He described crowded conditions at the penitentiary "a sprawling prison farm near Baton Rouge" and said in case of a fire "the majority of persons (in dormitories) would not survive."

He said the plans to be submitted call for a penitentiary "that is modern, fireproof and easily maintained, clean and decent."

Yank Soldiers Report Neglect, Brutality Cause

Estimates Vary In Accounts Of Atrocity Victims

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea, April 25—(UP)—Liberated American prisoners of war told Saturday of 4,000 more Allied prisoners who died of Communists brutality or neglect.

Some of the reports overlapped and the figures could not be checked, but the number of Allied deaths in Red captivity was estimated to be near 7,000.

United Nations officials announced meanwhile that Communist correspondents Alan Winnington and Wilfred Burchett had tried to indoctrinate the prisoners with Communism.

The UN official said Burchett and Winnington brought the prisoners news of world events and while talking with them in Communist POW camps played a "leading role" in the indoctrination of Americans and Britons.

Prisoners told earlier of the deaths of 3,000 UN troops in "death marches" or in unheated stockades during periods of below-zero temperatures when they often were without proper care.

Saturday there were new reports of the deaths of 1,500 men in one camp, another 1,600 to 1,800 in another and 800 at camp No. 5 near Pyongyang.

It was believed these three estimates overlapped and that the total was about 4,000.

Dr. Wendell H. Treffery of Terrellville, Conn., told newsmen here that "if they had given us better food and medical care, 1,600 to 1,800 men who died would be alive now."

M. Sgt. Gilbert Christie of Montezuma, Ind., said there were about 3,000 POWs in his camp in 1950 and that "about 50 per cent of the men died."

Almost every story by the liberated prisoners told of great suffering. Some insisted they were in "perfect health" and that prisoners left behind were in serious condition.

Pfc. Theodore A. Juern of Forest Park, Ill., said he saw one POW in a hospital "all swollen up" before he died from infections caused by hypodermic injections.

South Korean Kim Hwak No said 1,000 ROK prisoners in his group were pressed into service in the North Korean army.

Cpl. John King of Orlando, Fla., said the Communists had no modern equipment and used "guess-work" (Continued On Fifth Page)

Negro Is Injured

A small Negro boy was in critical condition at the St. Francis Sanitarium after being hit while riding a bicycle by an automobile on the Oliver road Saturday. No charges were filed in the wreck.

Police identified the Negro as Eddie Wicks, 12, 303 South Fifteenth Street. He is suffering severe injuries of the head and body. Extent of his injuries were still not determined late yesterday.

The youth was reported to have been riding on his bicycle when a 1953 Pontiac driven by Allen G. Pinckard, 30, Route 1, West Monroe, attempted to pass him. As the car came alongside the youngster, the boy swerved slightly and the fender of the vehicle struck the handlebars of the bicycle. Witnesses stated that the boy was on the wrong side of the road when the accident occurred.

Speech Therapist Heard By P.-T. A. Of Georgia Tucker

Miss Frances Barnes, speech therapist for the Monroe City school system, spoke at the monthly meeting of the Georgia Tucker Parent-Teacher Association Thursday. The meeting was held in the school auditorium.

Miss Barnes gave a most interesting talk and stressed the importance of correcting the defective speech of children at an early age in order to give them the self-confidence they need to live a normal life in school and community.

Mrs. Mable Lippman, principal, announced the round-up of children to be enrolled in kindergarten for the year 1953-54. This will be held Thursday and Friday, April 30 and May 1.

In the absence of Mrs. Paul Thompson, president, Mrs. James Larkin, Jr., presided. Mrs. Larkin also reported on the state convention recently held in Lake Charles.

The membership was urged to attend the courses of instruction given at Northeast Louisiana State College by Dr. H. C. Brearly, head of the sociology department at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn. Dr. Brearly will speak at all three sessions of the conference. His Friday night subject which will be "What is happening to the mid-century American family" will begin at 7:30 p.m. There will be a session Saturday morning at 9:30 and another session will begin at 1:30 p.m. The subject of the last session will be "Juvenile Delinquency." All persons interested are invited to attend.

After the business session a delightful refreshment course was served by Mrs. Mable Simpson, hospitality chairman.

Marble Tourney Set In Winnsboro Saturday May 23

WINNSBORO, April 25 (Special) — The annual Louisiana state marble tournament scheduled for May 23, will be held this year at the Franklin Parish War Memorial fairgrounds, at Winnsboro. William R. Baker, commander of post 3155 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars said today. The highest state tournament since the program was initiated seven years ago is being planned this year.

The annual parish marble tournament will be held here at the War Memorial fairgrounds May 9, and the district tournament will be held at the same site on May 16. The winner of the district contest will be eligible to play in the state contest.

The entire program, up through the national tournament, is sponsored by the V. F. W.

To be eligible to compete in the parish tournament, boys must be passing in their school work and must not have passed their 15th birthday on or prior to April 15.

Commander Baker urges all boys who are eligible to start practicing. School champions will compete in the parish meet and the parish champ will be awarded a new bicycle. The state champion this year will receive an expense paid trip to the national marble tournament, to be held in Portland, Ore. This trip to the Pacific Northwest, Baker said, with the many events planned for the boys during their stay there, is a prize well worth working hard for.

A Great Mistake

On this spring morning in April, it might well be time to discuss a great mistake believed by many millions of American people. There are those who in this peaceful parish, far away from the battlefields of Korea and Europe, who are complacent as to the danger which confronts them each hour. There is an old saying that when a person "harps" on a subject too much, it loses its impact and seriousness.

The Morning World and the News-Star have in the past few months attempted to arouse the citizens of this area as to the dangers and the seriousness of the forces of world Marxism. This newspaper has emphasized time and time again the nefarious methods used by these forces to gain their goal which all of you should recognize by now is complete domination of the globe on which you are precariously held by the mysterious working of nature. Recently, a local citizen expressed the view, "why are you all so worried about the Communists?" "They are not dangerous." "There are only a few of them in this nation to begin with." Numerically speaking, that person was correct. There are only a few Communists in the United States as compared with the amount of voting citizens.

Do you know how many Communists it took to overthrow Czarist Russia? Exactly a third as many militant Communists in comparison with those presently known to be operating in this nation completely took over the Russian nation. It is then said that conditions were terrible in Russia, the living standard was low and there was a terrible war scouring the land. That is true, but the Czar had the forces of the "Cheka" or Secret Police arresting and deporting Communists right and left. To their amazement, and much too late, the Russian royalists found that all the power in the world could not uproot the Marxist forces. Do you know why? It was due to this fact and this fact alone: The Czar and his followers believed that the Communists or Bolsheviks were simply another political party. They found that this was decidedly not so.

World Marxism, which includes the Russian Communists and their followers, the Trotskyites, the forces of Tito and the Socialists do not regard themselves as being a political party. They are in fact, a new religion, a new ideology which is based on the belief that no man has a soul of his own and that all men work for a centralized "state" or "force" which protects them. They hold that all men are born equal and that's the way they ought to stay. They completely ignore the human dignity and individual traits which make men different and they hope to successfully expand their beliefs until these beliefs are the only ones in the world. To accomplish this, they will (as has been proven) use any means possible including wholesale murder. In fact, they regard this last action as a necessity as it is realized by all Communists that not everybody will believe their tenets. These people, they have shown, will eventually have to be exterminated.

Their beliefs as regards the human individual are shown in the manner of treatment of war prisoners. Not so much the brutality which unfortunately comes with almost any war, but the regarding of individual prisoners as beings to be used as tools for barter and trade. There is not any use in attempting to compile the number of humans which have been killed by the Communists. There is no use in saying, "this is terrible, let's do something about it." There actually is only one true and tried method which works against the Communists and that is ideologies as strong as the ones they presently hold.

A minister once said: "I've never seen people work as hard and earnestly for an earthly cause as do the Communists." There is one answer to the Communists and that is through God and through belief in God alone. Do you think that the political forces of capitalism turned the many former Communists away from their beliefs? It is just not so. Communists will readily tell you (should you ever meet one) that what they greatly fear is religion. Do you think that the many sons of wealthy men who are now devout and militant Communists are in their position because of political hopes for advancement? It is certain that their money has nothing to do with their influences. How about the many extremely well educated individuals who are either Communists or who hold Marxist beliefs? They should know better, but do they?

Now, what about these dangers facing this United States. Americans are noted all over the world for their beliefs that every individual has the God given right to think, and believe as he pleases. For this, you are hated and feared by the Marxists.

You see, Marxism in whichever form it comes, is not a political faction or party; it is a new world force. Perhaps as potent as any since the advent of Mohammed and Christ. Worse, it seeks not peace, but destruction of the individual soul and dignity of man. This, all Americans must fight, and continue fighting. Unless you do so, your ruin from forces in this nation today is certain. Records of conversations by leading Communists in this nation and other places show the extent of the carnage scheduled for this nation. The Marxists plan to exterminate all the individualism and free thinking in this nation of liberty. This, all Americans should fight as a menace to their lives and this fight probably will not end with a collapse of the Soviet Government.

The only way to combat the force of Communism is with ideologies better than any produced by the Communists. Religion alone is the answer. It also has succeeded in the battle against this Godless foe where nothing else has and it alone will most likely be the determining factor in the eventual outcome. It would be well for the American people to study the inherent dangers in the Marxist ideology and you don't have to be an expert to do so. It is, therefore, the public duty of these newspapers to attempt to arouse the public of the dangers facing it at this juncture in the history of the world.

Make no mistake. The Communists are a direct threat to you and your family and they are threatening you right now. They are not a political party. The Communist force in the world can easily be classified as a new religion.

Future Fire Fighters

Recently, the Monroe fire department was contacted by parents of several local youngsters who had a "yen" to play with matches. They wanted a few of the firemen to explain the dangers of this "play" and show the youngsters some of the damage which is caused by fire.

The firemen drove the trucks right up to the doors of the homes, sat on the lawn and explained how dangerous fire is and how easily playing with matches can cause a fire. They did such a selling job that it is presumed that those young lads will probably be wanting to fight fires rather than cause them.

There is hardly a boy living who has not wanted to play with fire and matches, and in this area, there are few lads who have not set lots of things on fire. Fire is a fascination to youngsters (and some adults) who cannot be expected to know about the dangers unless carefully and adroitly coached in the possible damage fire can do to property. The Monroe firemen are certainly to be commended for their grand spirit in these instances and their lessons have helped more than would a hundred "spankings." Youngsters have to be taught the dangers in all things such as fires and shown what damage the slightest spark can cause.

In this area, there is much cause for worry as during the summer months, rain seems to be at a premium, if last summer is a criteria, and a spark can magnify itself into a catastrophe. The simple burning of a vacant lot can, under the right circumstances, do serious damage to surrounding buildings. One spark can travel fast and for quite a distance, causing fires in other places.

Another factor is the false alarm trouble. It seems that many youngsters set false alarms causing the fire department to go to one place when there might be real need for equipment elsewhere. The old story of "cry wolf" doesn't work as the fire department never takes a chance, but it does cause unnecessary difficulty to the fire department which has a big job to begin with. A little education in this might help the youngsters who generally have a great respect and admiration for firemen and fire engines. When the kids know the damage fires can cause, it is not believed that they would deliberately set them. When they realize the possibilities contained in each match, it is further not believed that they will regard matches as playthings. Take a little time and explain the seriousness of fire with the youngster.

If they won't believe you, maybe they'll believe the firemen!

Atrocities

The pages in the files of atrocities committed by the North Koreans and the Chinese are daily being filled with stories as gruesome as any which ever came out of the second world war. It is believed that these atrocities against helpless men cannot be directly accorded to the political beliefs of the Chinese and North Koreans as it is known that many of these people don't even know why they are fighting but are simply told to kill as many of the Americans and other "U. N." troops as is possible.

More than likely, the atrocities can be chalked up to the horrors of war. It is understood that the Pentagon and the administration are attempting to play down the brutality as much as possible on the grounds that "throwing" the atrocities at the Communists would only make more harm come to the troops already held. This may or may not be correct. It is probable that those in charge of the military know far more than the average citizens about these dealings with Communists, but it is also known that the "inner circle" of the chiefs of staff were "trained" under the Truman-Acheson type diplomacy of "containment" and acts bordering on appeasement. It has been rumored already that those presently in charge of the armed forces will soon be removed not for personal reasons, but due to beliefs with which the new administration cannot find itself in accord.

In any case, it does not seem that "playing down" the atrocities will help the prisoners at this juncture as it is known that the Communists will do what they please with captured men. Perhaps it might be better even to tell the world what the Communists have done.

The British have already accused the Americans of "playing up" the brutality and some British newspapers have even accused the American prisoners of lying. Perhaps the Reds did take better care of the British troops. That is entirely feasible as Britain was the very first great power to recognize the Chinese Communists. Reports from Washington show that a great tide of resentment is pouring into the offices of senators and representatives by telephone, telegrams and letters.

The administration is pleading with the American people to remain calm and wait until the final outcome as the national leaders know that the Communists will use any excuse to curtail the exchanges. It would seem that should the American people know the entire truth, they would be better equipped to remain calm than should wild rumors be spread which naturally cause the very opposite effect.

Obviously the American people are not going to sit back and take bestial actions against American troops without comment. According to the "charter" of "U. N." that organization has a duty in conducting investigations of this sort. It has seen fit to involve itself in other less important disputes and there is no substantial reason why this atrocity investigation should not be made the business of the "U. N."

It is certain that no American wants to ruin the chances of any prisoner's coming home or his treatment at the hands of the Chinese and the North Koreans, but it is also certain that appeasing the North Koreans and the Chinese will probably not help the prisoners either. Should the American people be fully informed of the facts surrounding these probable atrocities, it is certain that calm minds will prevail. Unfortunately, there is nothing any American can do and getting "fired up" will certainly do no good. Facts will combat rumors and that is what the American people need.

It is firmly believed that the whole truth should come out and that there should be no minimizing of the brutality against American prisoners.

Lights Over Broadway

By Walter Winchell

To the Publishers Convention in New York: Darkness intensifies the light of stars. Similarly, every threat to the endurance of Liberty increases the responsibility of the free press. The task of a newspaperman requires numerous rare qualities: He must have the judgment to foresee and the discrimination to decide. Unfettered journalism not only reflects current issues, it plays an active role in forging the course of events. It is both a historian and a soldier. The free newspaper is constantly the target of numerous pressures. It is occasionally guilty of honest error. But if it compromises its integrity, then it has surrendered the primary purpose for its existence. As long as our newspapers retain their passion for truth and devotion to integrity, then the forces of darkness will never dim the light-bearers of civilization. The world needs a renaissance of the faith that made the free press a reality. Only with that spirit can men walk in dignity and children sleep in peace.

The finest characteristics can be perverted. There are times when benevolence is foolish and hospitality is a form of stupidity. The case of Walter Gieseking (the pro-Nazi pianist) offers a striking illustration: some Americans have contended he should be judged on artistic grounds while others argue our Democracy is mightily enough to survive his invasion. No sane American believes Gieseking represents a threat to our security and it is equally absurd to stress the artistic point. Gieseking's motives for coming here are strictly commercial. This reporter believes it is ridiculous for the U. S. to afford this man an opportunity to be enriched. Gieseking's arrogance is on a par with his deceit. His declaration that he has been cleared of the Nazi taint is contradicted by the facts.

Dictators have always sought to exploit the hopes of decent people. They transform these noble aspirations into military advantages. Hitler posed as a devotee of Peace even after the Nazis invaded Poland. Russia now talks Peace. The U. S. News-World Report explains why: (1) To give Malenkov time to entrench at home. (2) To check rearmament of Western Germany. (3) To build creation of a real European army. (4) To induce the U. S. to slow or stop rearming. (5) To regain access to markets of the West. (6) To divide the U. S. from Allies in Europe and Asia. (7) To give Communism China a breathing spell. (8) To let Communists catch up in the atom race. (9) To encourage isolationism everywhere. Sue???

The Jan. 9th 1949 N. Y. Times published the following conclusive evidence. It is a letter written by Gieseking (dated Nov. 3, 1933) to Hans Hinkle, who was the Nazi State Commissar for Science, Art and Popular Culture. This is the Gieseking letter: "Most Distinguished Mr. Hinkle: Because of the American Civil Liberties Union issued an attack against Congressional Committees investigating subversion. All such committees (it charged) 'have contributed to the tension and fear over alleged Communist infiltration into unions, civic agencies, schools and colleges and the entertainment industry.' The Herald-Tribune carried this reply: 'This was a mere "sneak attack" by a group of prominent New York educators just a week ago. This group was of the unanimous opinion that schools and colleges have not been hurt by such investigations.'

Thanks to Wilbur Clark and his associates at the ACLU, the ACLU statement and then called this reply: 'This was a mere "sneak attack" by a group of prominent New York educators just a week ago. This group was of the unanimous opinion that schools and colleges have not been hurt by such investigations.'

Military expediency frequently tends to blur moral distinctions and obliterates common sense. The saddening pageant of history offers no clearer example of this fact than Alfred Krupp, the Nazi munitions-maker. He was convicted in 1951. Krupp was convicted for employing slave labor. The Allies recently concluded an agreement with Krupp which returned to him much of his industrial empire and a mere $84,300,000. Krupp is upset, however. He squawked to a U. S. correspondent last week that the deal with the Allies "was unfair to him." The bandit complained that he was cheated.

Krupp is wealthy again, although his weapons helped kill millions. What's the price of their graves?

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Senate isn't likely to abolish filibusters at this session or any time soon. That can be more positively stated now than at the beginning of the present Congress when the so-called liberals made at least a gesture toward simplifying limitation of debate, which was overwhelmingly defeated.

It was emphasized then and is now being demonstrated even more convincingly that the use of the filibuster, an attempt to talk legislation to death, is not confined to any section of the country or to any shade of political coloration. No matter how many campaign pledges are made to do something about curtailing Senate debate, senators will keep right on talking.

In the last Congress, the proponents of the Fair Employment Practice act shouted indignantly that its opponents — the southern Senators — were denying the people of the country their right of expression on this controversial question — meaning a Senate vote. After filibusters had relegated FEPC to the shelf, it was the turn of liberal Democrats to denounce filibustering and promise that they would do their best to change the rules.

Now it's the so-called "liberals" who are doing the talking, though no one attempts to deny, though by some off reasoning, they refuse to call it filibustering. Just as the south lines up shoulder to shoulder against FEPC, the senators now fighting the tide of liberal bill for the most part were FEPC supporters, and classify themselves as New Deal — Fair Deal Democrats. The only Republicans on the list of 23 are Langer (N. D.) and Tobey (N. H.) Senator Morse (Ore.) has decided that he is an Independent.

What is going on under the noses of the Republican Senate leaders who are doing their best to put through the bill, anting title to offshore lands to states seems to be a well planned effort to drum up an issue for next year's congressional campaign. That could be why the three senators just mentioned, are making a brave show of resistance to a measure which has twice passed Congress and was twice vetoed by President Truman.

It is true that had Rule 22 of the Senate been changed at the opening of this session, the delay could have been prevented, because the filibuster has been carried on for three weeks by less than a third of the Senate membership. But that change would have done as much to facilitate the passage of a Fair Employment Practice bill as it would the tide of liberal legislation. What the opposition senators seem to have in mind is to stir public opinion against the grant of offshore lands to states by keeping the issue on the front pages and on the radio, but that reaction has not become apparent as yet. Senators — including those who oppose the bill — say that their mail on the subject has not increased appreciably, one way or the other. That verifies their experience on previous filibusters.

Hollywood Spotlight

By Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the Screen: Bob Mitchum's working in the first 3-D picture about a professional prize fighter but he's wishing some other brawny male had been picked... by destiny for the chore.

Faked blows look like faked blows in three dimensions so Bob's letting Jack Palance connect with solid blows in their fight scenes for "Second Chance." And he's groaning between scenes:

"We're throwing legitimate punches and my brains are being jarred loose."

There's been talk of a feature-length movie based on the father-and-daughter characters Charley Farrell and Gale Storm play in their half-hour telefilms, "My Little Margie," but Charley's hoping they won't be rushed into a fast deal.

"We won't celebrate our first anniversary on the air until September," he says, "and our show will be on the air for a long time."

Sign-off-times note: Stars working this week in movie theaters: 10. Stars working in films for television: 41.

Susan Hayward, who's been wanting to return to movie roles, is a candidate for her wish. She's rumored to be in a picture with "Demetrius the Gladiador," sequel to "The Robe."

Industry stars know how other "stars" work. They have found it possible to work in Hollywood and be paid by one studio or another. But Maria Lanza will get no offers from other majors now that MGM has fired him. It's the cue of the west.

The Torrey Moore-Robert Wagner marriage flash should have been spread by "Phony Express" instead of the wires. And the studio is burning over identification of Wagner as the son of a millionaire.

Dean Miller of CBS-TV's "There's One in Every Family" and Betty Ann Grove of "The Big Payoff" on the same network are on the same romantic wave length, too.

Polly Bergen's frank quote on celebrating three years of marriage with Jerome Courtland: "I never figured we'd make it." Tony Dexter is beaming over his lead in "Captain John Smith and Pocahontas." He's been trying to shake the Valentino label for two years and Smith could do it. Bill Bendix groaning about the telecasting of his old movie, "The Hairy Ape." "It's played at least 100 times and I haven't collected a quarter."

If Fox hadn't picked up Jeanne Crain's option for another year, she'd have scooted to England to play the lead in "But Gentlemen Marry Brunettes." Anita Loos' sequel to "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

Irving Berlin's follow-up picture to "There's a New Star in the Sky" at Fox will be a musical partly based on his own life, with the greatest footage devoted to his Music Box revues. Grace Moore rose to stardom through one of Berlin's early stage musicals.

In the Hollywood spotlight: The Sportmen's Quartet. They ran a singing commercial on the Jack Benny show seven years ago into a million-dollar enterprise. Current activities: the Benny show, counting money from a Texas oil well, real estate, night clubs, a music publishing firm, radio and a TV series, "Nickelodeon Theater."

The Boy Scouts of America refused to give their approval to the book, "Be Prepared," by R. E. Cochrane, but they're cooperating 100 per cent with Fox in the studio's film version of the tome starring Clifton Webb. The screen plan deletes the parts of the book that Boy Scout chieftains found objectionable.

WHAT does it mean to go to church? ... What is this Sunday for? ... Is it the special day each week ... To make our moral score? ... Are prayer and worship all we need ... To save our souls on earth? ... Does church attendance credit us ... With everlasting worth? ... If that is our opinion we ... Are wrong as we can be ... And may The Lord have mercy when ... We reach eternity ... We cannot while away the week ... And then make up for it ... With just a Sunday hour in ... The pews where people sit ... Each day is God's in school or home ... # Solons Fight Tidelands With Tool They Seek To Ban-Filibuster That Is

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25 (Special) — Labelling a talkathon that has delayed voting on the controversial submerged lands quitclaim a full-fledged filibuster, Senator Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) this week-end declared that the senate has been faced "with the extraordinary spectacle of avowed opponents of unlimited and free debate" taking advantage of the rule they were fighting to amend only four months ago.

Ellender had reference to the proposed amendment to Senate Rule 22, offered by Senator Anderson (D-New Mexico), which would have eased the imposition of cloture. The senator labelled the Anderson proposal a "gag-rule."

Ellender, addressing a Louisiana radio audience, cautioned against hasty acceptance of world peace on Communist terms, warning that the Russians would not hesitate to present a beaming, peaceful face to the world while constructing an impenetrable war-making ability in their homeland.

The senator commended President Eisenhower on his recent seven-point blueprint for peace, and declared that "in the light of this offer it is time for the Russians to either agree to these proposals or tell the world of their insincerity in seeking genuine peace."

The Louisiana solon expressed concern over a House Appropriations Committee reduction in funds for civil service retirement, and abolition of authority to construct necessary low-rent housing units recommended by President Eisenhower and endorsed by the budget Bureau. Ellender said continuation of the low-rent housing program is both necessary and vital, adding that "where the need exists, the federal government indeed has a duty to fulfill to the less fortunate of our population who are now forced to live in sub-standard, unsanitary quarters."

It will be held next Thursday night when a big banquet is planned. All the many teachers during these more than four decades that Supt. Linton has been at the helm, are expected to attend.

The incoming superintendent, M. A. Phillips, has been elected as successor of the retiring superintendent. He is well known as he has been associated for some years with the schools of the parish.

The Sherrouse summer round-up for kindergarten and first graders who will enter that school in the fall will be held at the school April 30 at 8 a. m. An error in the paper gave the time as 8 p. m. — pretty late to bring youngsters out for a round-up of many hours.

Registration Is Now Open For Road-E-O

Registrations for a teen-age road-e-o, which will be held Saturday, May 2, are being taken at the office of Harry Dixon in the Strauss building on Walnut street. The registration is open until Wednesday.

J. D. Wink, chairman of the road-e-o committee of the Monroe-West Monroe Junior Chamber of Commerce, said the contest will be held among high school students between the ages of 14 and 20, as of August 16. "To determine the safest driver in the Twin Cities."

Wink said the Jaycees will supervise the contests on local, state and national levels. Competition will include contests in parking, driving in traffic, knowledge of traffic laws, and several other points of safe driving. Teen-agers who have been guilty of a moving violation during a six-month period before the contest will not be allowed to enter.

When registering an entrance examination will be required which will take approximately 15 minutes. From the teen-agers taking the test, the top twenty will be chosen to compete in the contest.

Judges for the contest are being selected from outstanding citizens who have thorough knowledge of safety rules.

The first three winners in the local contest will be given savings bonds with the first place winner taking a $100 bond and second and third place winners being awarded $50 and $25 bonds.

The top winner in the contest will compete in a state contest to be held June 5 and 6. The contest will also be held in Monroe with the place to be announced later.

The state winner will be given a free trip to Washington, D. C., to participate in the national teen-age road-e-o August 11 through 16. The contest is cosponsored by the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Liberty Mutual Insurance Company.

Deaths

MRS. CLARA A. BOWER

Teachers are better educated than the average, therefore have a tendency to worry more, he said. But each one can improve his mental and emotional health by working at it, he concluded.

Some of the reasons for the increase in juvenile delinquency in this country were cited by Dr. Brearley as conflict between youth and age, the vast change in our way of living, thrill-hunting to escape boredom by teen-agers, and the prolonging of the period of infancy in our youth.

"We need something better than mere recreation programs to combat this evil," he said. He urged that more moral training be given children. This has not been emphasized enough in our homes and schools, the doctor said.

Pointing out the importance of elementary school teachers in fighting the problem, the professor stated that this time of the child's life is definitely the most important.

Dr. Brearley suggested two possible plans to combat juvenile delinquency. These were: Skillful teachers can discover potential juvenile delinquents in elementary school and the parents should be alerted to the danger signs of juvenile delinquency and aroused to the point where they will take steps to help remedy the situation. As for the teachers' part, he urged them to keep an eye on both "the book and the boy," neglecting neither one.

"The Teacher's Mental and Emotional Health" was discussed by Dr. Brearley on Saturday morning before a group of some 250 teachers, principals, supervisors and visiting students of the college.

The average teacher sits upon a "sociological keg of dynamite" every day from 8 a. m. to 3 p. m., the professor stated. Many problems are faced by teacher daily, and it is imperative that he or she have emotional stability. In public schools, something can happen at any moment, he said.

He pointed out problems which affect the teacher's mental and emotional health are: (1) continuous surveillance by a large number of persons; (2) children's attitudes and behavior; (3) boredom; (4) low pay and (5) blame placed reached the conclusion that the south should have a two-party system and that they believed that only through such a movement could the south attain its proper position. They expressed the hope that their stand would start a general two-party movement, not only in Louisiana but throughout the south.

So far as is known, Mayor Fiske and Aldermen McCormick, Rush and Craig are the only Republican city officials in Oak Grove and it is certain that Oak Grove is the only Louisiana city in which the mayor and a majority of the aldermen are Republicans.

Mayor Fiske and Alderman McCormick said that there are no old-line Republicans in Oak Grove, although there have been a number of changes of party affiliations within recent months and are now about 40 registered Republicans in West Carroll parish.

Mayor Fiske, who is serving his second term as mayor and who had previously served a good many years as alderman, said that he and the others were not making the party shift with any expectation of Republican favors or patronage. "The time to set up a two-party system seems opportune, now that we have a Republican president," the mayor said. "We are interested in the betterment of Louisiana and the south and we believe this is the way to attain such betterment," Mayor Fiske stated.

Stories From Louisiana History

By CARRIE MAE HARPER

During the last half of the nineteenth century northeast Louisiana citizens boasted of having within their reach a group of springs which poured forth waters of the highest medicinal value. It was the custom of the most fashionable people in the area to go, once each year, to Castor Springs in Catahoula Parish to drink the water.

The sulphur water which boiled copiously from the earth was credited with curing many cases of dyspepsia, rheumatism and various liver complaints. Three or four miles distant was "Sour Well" where the water had a strong acid flavor and a "specific in dyspepsia."

In 1898 a prominent Louisiana family visited the Springs. They arrived at the railway station several miles from Castor Springs and were met by a two-horse wagon belonging to the owner of the one hotel at the Springs.

Anxious to reach their destination as soon as possible, the family helped to load the wagon with luggage, boxes and the children's toys and the trip began. Their high spirits were somewhat subdued by the jolting of the wagon over the deep rut in the road bed and the family was deposited, hungry and tired, at the door of the boarding house.

They were met by the hotel owner dressed in his night shirt and holding a kerosene lamp in one hand.

"Your room is upstairs," he said. "I'll show you."

The father stopped him. "We had hoped for something to eat before we went to bed. We've had nothing since noon."

"Sorry," answered the owner. "We've already had supper and the cook's gone to bed. It's nine o'clock. This way please."

The disappointed family followed the kerosene lamp up the stairs, carrying their own luggage. They were shown to a room with two double beds, another disappointment, since the parents had hoped to obtain a separate room for the children.

After some confusion, the tired, cross children were put to bed and the family settled down for its first night at the Springs.

"Mama, something's bitin' me," one child cried.

"Me, too," said another. "It's biting me, too," said the father, getting up to light the lamp.

The room was found to be full of sand flies.

The father called the owner of the boarding house and asked for another room. The owner grumbled and led the way to another room with two double beds.

Once again the lamp was extinguished and the family tried to go to sleep.

One by one the children began to itch and awaken. The light of the lamp this time revealed the mattresses were infested with bed bugs.

"I give up," said the father. "The spring water might cure my dyspepsia but we can't go without any sleep for two weeks."

Next morning the family again climbed onto the wagon and went back to the railway station. They had not tasted the waters of Castor Springs.

The boarding house owner looked after the wagon and muttered to himself, "Humph! Mighty particular folks. Guess Castor Springs ain't good enough for 'em."

Castor Springs, quite understandably, never became famous outside northeast Louisiana for the curative powers of its waters.

BRAZIL WHEAT CROP

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil's 1953 wheat harvest will total 400,000 tons, approximately double the 1951-52 total. The Wheat Expansion Service says Brazil's needs are 1,800,000 tons annually. Argentina has been Brazil's principal supplier of wheat.

AMA President To Speak Here Next Friday

Dr. Louis Bauer, president of the American Medical Association, will be the guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Fifth District and Ouachita Parish Medical Societies Friday evening. The special meeting will begin at 7 p. m. at the Bayou DesLard Country Club.

Accompanying Dr. Bauer to Monroe will be Dr. William E. Baker, Jr., Plaquemine, president of the state medical association, and Dr. C. Groves Cole, secretary of the state organization.

Dr. Bauer is a graduate of Harvard Medical School and has been practicing in Hempstead, New York, since 1930. He is the recipient of many professional honors and is a member and officer of numerous organizations in this country and abroad. A retired colonel in the United States Army, he is consulting cardiologist to ten hospitals in the vicinity of New York City and is the author of articles on aviation medicine, cardiology and medical economics in various medical journals.

Members of the Fifth District Medical Society and the parish organization feel they are fortunate to have this opportunity of hearing Dr. Bauer and urge all doctors and their wives to attend this special dinner meeting.

Draft Panel Slates College Test Finals

NEW ORLEANS, April 25—UP—College students who have not yet taken the Selective Service college qualification test will have one more chance to do so this academic year, authorities said Saturday.

Lt. Col. Leo W. Davis, acting state Selective Service director, said that an extra test will be given May 21, but emphasized that applications to take it must be postmarked no later than midnight May 11.

The test will be given primarily for students prevented by illness or other emergency from taking the test, held last Thursday.

Judge Is Re-Elected

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 25—UP—Judge Ruvian D. Hendrick of Shreveport was re-elected president Saturday of the City Judges Association.

The judges held their annual convention here in connection with the annual meeting of the state bar association.

Prior to the elections they adopted a resolution denouncing the practice of appealing city court cases to district courts. They urged the state legislature to pass a law requiring city court cases to be heard by the state Supreme Court.

Sugar was first made commercially from sugar beets about 1800 when France found sugar difficult to import during the Napoleonic wars.

'Torrid Twenties' Play Is Labeled Smash Hit

A smash hit! That's the word around town today, after the rollicking performances of the Torrid Twenties cabaret atop Hotel Frances Friday and Saturday evenings. The Torrid Twenties was sponsored by the Jaycee Jaynes to buy television sets for Louisiana Training Institute.

Capacity crowds watched a large east-tromp through the song, dances, heartbreaks and joys of the fabulous era of flappers and Dapper Dons. Everything from the rough-and-ready speakeasies to the booming crash of '29 filled the program. Such nostalgic dances as the Charleston, Black Bottom and Castlewalk shared honors with well-remembered songs as "A Pretty Girl," "Ten Cents A Dance," "Buddy, Can You Spare A Dime?" "Old Man River," and countless more.

Among the special impersonations of inimitable personalities of the Twenties were outstanding performances by Joe Smith, Jr., as Al Jolson, Janet Golson and John Lacy as Vernon and Irene Castle, Jack Ansell as Willie Howard, Gerie Goldman as Helen Morgan, Beth Brees as A Little Girl from Little Rock, Stocker Fontelleu and Jack Ansell as Gallagher and Shean, Lovell Hayden as Will Rogers, Garland Shell re-creating "Old Man River," Barbara Aden as Gilda Gray, the Shimmy Girl, and Sylvester Bread as the symbol of the Depression Years.

In the special speakeasy scene, the life of that phase of the Twenties was hilariously acted by Freddie and Roy Holloway, Jackie Chapman, Peggy and Buddy Tull, Jo Ann Ussery, Johnny Hill, Lloyd Voorhes, Jake Ussery and Tommy Innskeep.

To re-create other exciting moments of the Twenties were Dot and Jim Williams, Evelyn and Virg Chavis, Louise and A. C. Lingolf, Ellen Brown, Tom Hyland, Helen and Harry Horstman, Bobbie Newcomer, Nelwyn and N. L. Moncrief, Jessie and Bob Ellington, La Verne Shell, Dottie Winn, Pat Brown, Marybelle Holloway, Sky and Lloyd Lenard, Bobbie and Billy Inabnet and Ada Duncan. Master of ceremonies was Arthur McKnight.

Cigarette girls were Jean Weil and Robbie Foster.

Dusty Rhodes and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Smith assisted with the production.

Musie for the show, as well as the dance which followed, was supplied by Mel Spain and his orchestra. With special piano arrangements by Mrs. Benoit Williams.

In addition to the show and dance, the audience participated in the special Prize Bar, community singing and the selection of Sugar Daddy of Monroe for 1953.

The show was directed by Bill Holbrook of the Jerome H. Car-

New Cadet Patch OK's At Northeast

Selected by majority vote of the cadet corps, a design for the official shoulder patch of the Northeast State Military Police ROTC unit has been forwarded to the Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C. for final approval.

If the patch meets required specifications, cadets at Northeast State will adopt it as the official college shoulder patch. The emblem will be worn on the right shoulder of the uniform.

The insignia was chosen by secret ballot from five designs submitted. The new circular patch has a maroon border with the words "Northeast State College, Monroe, La." emblazoned in maroon on a gold stripe. Enclosed by a maroon circle, the solid maroon figure of an Indian stands against a gold background.

The emblem will be the first worn by members of the unit since the advanced ROTC program was instituted when Northeast was expanded to a four-year status.

Students Favor Segregation End

JACKSON, Miss., April 25—UP—Forty-two per cent of the students at Millsaps College here think the Methodist student support school should admit Negroes, according to a poll conducted by the campus newspaper, the Purple and White.

Editor Eddie Gossard said every third person in the student directory was questioned. Fifty-eight per cent were against admitting Negroes.

However, 59 per cent said they would attend a college or university which admits Negroes and 48 per cent said they would attend classes with Negroes permitted at Millsaps.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

HOUSTON (AP)—Management and public relations men for industry are going to have "to tell the truth and tell it in time" if they want to bring their side before the public in labor disputes, a Texas editor declares. J. Q. Mahaffey, editor of the Texarkana Gazette, in addressing a public relations forum here, said that some of the poorest jobs of public relations on the part of American businesses are done in the field of labor relations.

OPHS Alumni Banquet Sale Is Increasing

Ticket sales for the Ouachita Parish High School Alumni Banquet May 7 increased rapidly the past week following the announcement that Justin Wilson, famous Cajun storyteller, would be the featured speaker.

Association President Mrs. J. W. Cummins, happy over public response to Wilson's appearance at the banquet, urged all OPHS graduates and their wives or husbands to purchase tickets early as the Frances Roof could accommodate only 500.

Justin Wilson will delight you with his portrayal of the Louisiana Cajun," Mrs. Cummins said. "He has a rare flair; a remarkable story-telling talent; the ability to make you laugh. You'll enjoy hearing him, meeting the new graduates and seeing the old ones you went to school with."

The affair will honor the 1953 graduating class and will begin at 8 p. m., May 7 at the Hotel Frances roof. Ticket price is $1.50. Election of alumni officers to serve for the forthcoming year will also take place. At present tickets are on sale at the high school office on South Grand. Later they will be available at various Twin City business houses.

Other alumni officers assisting in the preparations are: J. Norman Coon, vice-president; Chester DeCuir, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Adams, treasurer; and Lloyd E. Lenard, publicity.

Officers of the 1953 graduating class at OPHS are: Oscar Cloyd, Jr., president; Bill Wheelis, vice-president; Sybil McKay, secretary; and Gilbert Vasquez, treasurer.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

1. DO MOST OF US POSSESS A STREAK OF MARTYRDOM? YES ☐ NO ☐

2. DO PEOPLE FEEL INSECURE BECAUSE THEY WANT TOO MUCH? YES ☐ NO ☐ 4-25

3. SHOULD CHILDREN BE GIVEN A WEEKLY ALLOWANCE? YES ☐ NO ☐

Answer to Question No. 1
1. Yes. Kathleen Norris says, (paraphrased): "As children we never heard of insecurity or security. We went ahead wanting simple things—peace, play, books, friends, long walks and talks, nourishing food—and life was happy. We were in a shocking state of insecurity but didn't know it." It's wanting the "unnecessaries of life" that causes much insecurity.

Answer to Question No. 2
2. Yes. As related by a psychologist, little Jimmy held up his frozen fingers and said, "Daddy, see what you did to me by buying me a pair of mittens." Jimmy could have warmed his hands in his pockets, but he wanted to gain power over his father. Wives, (also husbands) feign sickness to gain sympathy, or fur coats, or some sort of power over the other. We all have a little of this ornery streak.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Yes, according to a child specialist, provided the parents suggest tactfully how to plan the spending of the allowance. If only a nickel or a dime a week, it teaches the child something about the value of money and how to use it. Children shouldn't have to beg and hoodwink parents for money, nor should parents deprive children of their allowance as a punishment.

Last Session Of Conference Slated Today

The closing session of the Louisiana annual conference of the Methodist Church, central jurisdiction, which has been in session at St. James Methodist Church, 914 Adams Street, will be held this morning at 10:30 a. m. Bishop Robert N. Brooks will preach the closing sermon and read the appointments of the preachers for the coming year.

Following the reading of these appointments, the conference will close.

Saturday morning's session heard the reports of the conference treasurer and statistician. Rev. W. C. Haywood of New Orleans, treasurer, made the report that $77,000 had been raised for the various causes during the year. Approximately $13,000 was raised for the retired minister's fund.

The ministers' wives association in session at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church reported that the women of the parsonage had raised $3,000 for the reserve pension fund.

Rev. W. H. Davis, conference statistician, reported that there were 19,000 members and that 1,200 had been added during the year.

The Mt. Zion Methodist Church, New Orleans, was selected as the seat of the 1954 session of the conference.

Annual Barbecue Being Planned By Merchants

Plans are being formulated for the annual merchant's barbecue to be held on Saturday, May 2, at Fink's Hideaway, off the Sterlington Road. Herbert Fink, chairman, has announced. The outing will be held at 7:30 p. m.

Approximately 400 persons are expected to attend the barbecue which will have for the menu steaks, Boston baked beans, golden bantam corn on the cob and "wop" salad.

Fink said that should it rain on the night of the event, the barbecue will be held on the following Monday.

The entertainment committee is composed of Mrs. Jack Masur, chairman, Mrs. Richard Hale, Mrs. Milton Gorn, Mrs. Floyd Ferrell, Mrs. Maurice Strong, Mrs. J. W. Keene, Mrs. Meyer Glazer, Mrs. L. A. Mailhes and Mrs. James A. Noe.

Comprising the food committee are Mesdames Herbert Fink, chairman, C. D. McDams, Harry Silverstein, Sadie Saltzman, Grover Holloway, J. P. McDonald, Jim Williams and D. C. Silverstein.

Mrs. Irene Reid is chairman of publicity.

Government engineers say the Rio Grande is becoming steadily smaller.

NEWSPAPER SALES HIS BUSINESS—Shown herewith is Tommy Case, 22, who is as happy as any chap who has eyesight. Born blind he had no trouble to adjust to conditions and anyway he is always optimistic. (News-Star—World Photo by Clyde Blow)

Plucky Blind Youth Faces World Smiling

By H. H. BRINSMADE

How many have observed recently in downtown Monroe an attractive, blond salesman of the Morning World and News-Star in the person of Tommy Case, 22, who is making a desperate effort to become self-supporting? The road ahead is being tackled with commendable determination. All the more so for from birth Tommy has been blind.

Born in Catahoula Parish to a family all normal, Tommy started out entirely different, but at no time willing to admit he was afflicted.

Completing eight grades in the state school for blind in Baton Rouge, a restless energy sent him forth into the world. He now realizes that he should have received more education.

In times past he went along the road that blind people are too often urged to travel, that of the hard game of selling mops and brooms—a tedious and not too lucrative task.

Now having passed his majority as to age, he looks forward on getting off on the right foot and he admits selling newspapers suits him best of anything so far.

"I can't see like most people but I do have 'travel vision' and this enables me with a tiny bit of sight to get around a city after a few attempts at mastery," he explains.

Tommy possesses an optimistic outlook on life. He is always good natured and ready to let loose a "wiserack" with his customers. He is not a fellow devoid of pleasure. He can bowl a good game, can swim as well as anyone of good eyesight, enjoys the radio and quite often goes to the movies, where, if he is coached up a bit in advance, he is able to follow the show.

Tommy seeks to sell upwards of 80 papers daily of the Morning World and as many of the afternoon News-Star. He hasn't reached quite this number yet but he is on the way.

A good clean, cut lad is Tommy. He does not drink or smoke, is a frequent church attendant, and makes friends everywhere with an ease that many would envy.

In the course of conversation he was asked if he has any special girl friend. This interrogation caused him to blush right down to the roots of his blond hair, and drive the blood to his cheeks.

When he could find his voice he said: "I haven't made up my mind as yet!"

Tommy has received assistance from W. B. Pattison, counselor for the blind of the Louisiana State Department of Public Welfare. This officer has supervision of blind applicants in 18 parishes of north and central Louisiana, where there are approximately 150 who look to him for advice to guide them in their work. The purpose is to find places for sightless persons who possess innate skill that can be utilized so as to render them self-supporting. The aid this young man has received from this source is invaluable.

"He's an honest boy and can be trusted at all times," assured Mr. Pattison.

2 Are Bruised In Auto Wreck

Two persons received bruises as a result of an automobile wreck late Friday. Both were given emergency treatment at the St. Francis Sanitarium and released.

Taken to the sanitarium by a Mulhearn ambulance were Mrs. Richard Gahhart, 31, 203 Carolina Street, and her son, Rickey, 8. Attendents stated that the two received only "some bruises."

Mrs. Gahhart was reported to have been driving a 1948 Nash on Emerson Street. Upon crossing Marie Place her car collided with a 1952 Ford driven by Billy Edmondson.

Both cars were damaged extensively. No charges were filed in the wreck.

New Officers Are Installed

IAPES Concludes Fourth Annual Meet Saturday

The International Association of Personnel in Employment Security concluded its fourth annual convention Saturday with a business session and luncheon, at which time newly elected officers were installed. The meeting was held at the Virginia Hotel.

Officers installed were Chayton Ryan, Jr., president; Warren Gregoire, first vice-president; Arthur Hebert, second vice-president; Myrtle B. Fowler, secretary and Charles A. Rihner, treasurer.

Elected to the executive board in addition to the officers were Merrick W. Swords, past president; Mrs. Lurline Wade, Shreveport district; Dennis K. Ryan, Lake Charles district; Robert C. Creel, New Orleans district; and Robert E. Young, Baton Rouge district.

The convention will be held in Baton Rouge next year, Richard B. Davis, publicity chairman for the organization, has announced.

their imports and quit supplanting domestic oil. Our production will wither away. The independent operators will be driven out of business and oil and gas conservation will suffer."

Thompson said that importers are bringing oil to the United States "from the rich fields of the Persian Gulf where the average production is 5,000 barrels per well per day."

"Of course such action will ruin the domestic producer who has no foreign 5,000 barrel per well per day allowances to supplement his dwindling earnings from his domestic production," he said.

Thompson said that immediate action must be taken to "stop this increasingly dangerous trend."

As a result, Thompson said, many states have been forced to reduce their oil allowances.

"Texas is shut down," he said. "Fewer wells are being drilled and less oil is being found. Unless the importers reduce

Ernest T. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, quoted figures that showed oil imports have increased by 860,000 barrels daily in the past year until they have reached 1,276,700 barrels per day.

Jack Battaglia was given a permit to remodel a two-story frame building at 2105 Louisville avenue for $2,500. Day labor will be used.

The Central Assembly of God Church will build a one-story frame auditorium at 509 Calypso for $30,000. Willie Clark will be the contractor.

Texas Oil Men Charge Import Group 'Peril'

NEW ORLEANS, April 25—UP—A Texas oil official charged Saturday that major oil importing companies are imperiling the economic and national security of this country and threatening to ruin independent producers "just to enrich themselves."

Ernest T. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, quoted figures that showed oil imports have increased by 860,000 barrels daily in the past year until they have reached 1,276,700 barrels per day.

As a result, Thompson said, many states have been forced to reduce their oil allowances.

Multi-Million Dollar Oil Exposition Opens In May

TULSA, Okla., April 25 (AP)—The 100 million dollar International Petroleum Exposition opening here May 14 for a 10-day run is billed by its sponsors without challenge as the "World's Fair of the Oil Industry."

They call it also the "World's Largest Single Industry Show," a label well bulwarked by its 1,484 exhibitors, the 10 million dollar cost of preparation and the expected 500,000 attendance.

They point proudly to at least half a dozen single displays in this year's show worth a million dollars each, more than 25 costing $100,000 each.

But the oil show is also one of the great entertainment diversions for the industry's folk who attend primarily to see the latest thing for finding, producing and processing petroleum.

To this business' global travelers, it's a sort of "old home week," a once-every-few-years chance to refresh friendships founded anywhere there's oil or oil men.

It's a time for noisy, merry open houses at the big hotels, daily and nightly private parties in the homes of the oil-wealthy.

The welcome mat will be spread long and wide for visitors from abroad — "international delegates," the IPE management calls them.

The foreign groups, including government officials, top oil policy men, technologists and perhaps some diplomatic representatives, will be under the wing of one of the industry's best known societies, the Nomads.

Nomads belong to the National Oil Equipment Manufacturers and Delegates Society, one of whose requirements for membership is at least one trip outside the United States.

Members from New York, Los Angeles, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and Tulsa chapters will see to the guidance and entertainment of an estimated 800 visitors from at least 35 countries.

One of the show management's biggest headaches has been fighting rumors there will not be enough housing to accommodate more than 20,000 visiting oil men expected to crowd this city of 185,000.

Housing officials, however, emphasize that bona fide oil industry men will be able to obtain comfortable quarters quickly after leaving plane or train.

Unless they have long-standing reservations, they probably won't get into hotels, which months ago turned over all their space to the IPE and began flagging non-oil industry travelers away between May 14-23. But some 1,500 homes, among them some of the city's most luxurious — at least one has 16 baths — have been lined up for the influx. Some will be rented in their entirety by companies, many others will supply individual rooms.

The housing committee expects to quarter 5,000 in hotels, 12,000 in fully-leased dwellings and 6,000 in rooms in homes. If attendance burgeons beyond estimates, officials say, facilities can be quickly arranged for up to 30,000 out-towners.

One of the exposition's top traditions is a commemorative ceremony originated by the late John D. Rockefeller Sr. at the 1927 show in honor of the industry's founders. It recognizes a "pioneer of pioneers" in oil, as well as a "grand old man" in each of the industry's six major divisions: production, transportation, refining, etc. Hundreds of oil's oldsters have been nominated by individuals.

To be added for the first time this year is the selection of an "oil woman of the year." She will be chosen by a panel of petroleum's top executives from nominations submitted by the 46 Desk and Derrick club chapters organized among the industry's women workers since the 1949 exposition.

Coral Snake For Museum At College

A live coral snake, no less. This is the latest gift to the proposed museum of natural history at Northeast State, according to Edward Whitley, assistant professor of the biological science at the local college.

The creature, measuring some 25 inches in length, is the deadliest snake on the North American continent, biologists say.

He was captured by two Spencer residents, Ford Simpson and Sandy Nolan, in some woods near the nearby Louisiana community. The two men brought the snake to Mr. Whitley to be added to the latter's collection of hard-to-get items for the Northeast State museum, at present located in the biological laboratory on the second floor of the Science building. College scientists here hope to get a larger amount of space some day when their museum overflows with specimens.

The snake will be killed and preserved by Mr. Whitley and placed on exhibit. All persons interested in seeing the museum pieces at the present are invited to do so.

The live, deadly poisonous snake was one of a number of recent gifts received by the college for its museum. A pair of brass Spanish stirrups and four Indian pottery vessels were presented to the college recently by E. C. Paulus, local plumber.

The stirrups, large enough for a person who wears about a size seven shoe, are hand-made, beautifully engraved articles, with the illustration on the sides believed to be a likeness of Queen Isabella. Undoubtedly, there is an interesting history behind these two gifts.

The four Indian pottery pieces are somewhat pear-shaped, three of which have three legs each and the other in the shape of a taper, which holds it up. It is believed that Indians in this area used the vessels for cooking herbs for medicinal purposes.

Sheriff, Airmen Are Hoax Victims

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 25 (AP)—Search parties from two Army Air Force bases, the Civil Air Patrol, state police headquarters and the Rapides parish sheriff's office were convinced Saturday they had been victims of a hoax.

The searchers combed an area northwest of here for nearly 24 hours because two unidentified farmers reported seeing a plane in trouble.

A spokesman for the Alexandria wing of the Civil Air Patrol said that by noon Saturday no trace of any plane had been found and that furthermore no civilian or military craft in this area were missing.

Alexandria Air Force Base and Ellington Air Force Base at Houston, Tex., sent planes to aid in the search mission. They were called back to their bases early Saturday morning.

Law Institute Improves Laws; Writes New Ones

BATON ROUGE, April 25. (Special)—A determined group of professors from Louisiana State University, Tulane and Loyola is helping to make Louisiana a better state — by improving her laws.

It's the Louisiana State Law Institute, a revisionary commission with a general membership of nearly 400 lawyers and judges from every part of the state and law professors from the three universities.

J. Denton Smith, L. S. U. professor of law, directs the Institute from the University Law School building.

The institute's job, as Dr. Smith put it, is to revise and improve Louisiana's basic laws. Some have to be brought in step with modern times, others written anew. The institute does both.

Six basic laws, the Modern Criminal code among them, are results of institute's recent work. Two years ago it has revised Louisiana's General Statutes. Last year a draft of the new state constitution was prepared.

Now the institute is revising Louisiana civil code.

It's not an easy task. For law professors appointed to make revisions, it means months of painstaking research, study and writing. New drafts go before the institute's council, its working and governing body.

The final step is the state legislature.

Not only is the institute contributing to Louisiana's welfare. Its work has attracted attention of lawyers from most countries of the western world.

Lawyers from Canada, France, Germany, England and other countries write to learn what the institute is doing. The U. S. Department of State last year lauded the institute for presentation of sets of law books to institutions in France and Canada.

Members of the L. S. U. law faculty who serve on the institute's council, in addition to Dr. Smith, include Dean of the Law School Paul H. Hebert, secretary of the organization since its founding in 1938.

Dr. Harriet S. Daggett, professor of law at the University for 25 years and nationally recognized authority, is assistant director of the institute. She is working on revision of the civil code. Other members of the council are professors Dale E. Bennett and Joseph Dainow.

Mayor, Aldermen Of Oak Grove In Switch To GOP

OAK GROVE, La., April 25.—The mayor and three aldermen of Oak Grove changed their voting registration today from Democrat to Republican to help "institute a two-party system."

Aldermen who changed registrations were W. Ben McCormick, serving his 12th year as alderman, and W. I. Rush and Norman Craig, in their first terms.

Aldermen who have not changed affiliation are W. O. James and Don Moseley.

City officials said the terms of the mayor and five aldermen will expire next year and that primary elections will be held in April, 1954.

Since becoming Republican, none of the four will be eligible to enter the Democratic primary, but must face Democratic nominees in the general election.

Originally in this largely Democratic state, nomination by that party is tantamount to election. Fiske and McCormick, speaking in behalf of the group, said they had reached the conclusion that the South should have a two-party system and that they believed that only through such a movement could the South attain its proper position.

They said they hoped their stand would start a two-party movement throughout the South.

The four were believed to be the only GOP city officials in the state. Oak Grove, about 80 miles from Monroe in Northeast Louisiana, has about 1,800 persons. It becomes the first Louisiana city with a Republican majority on its governing body.

There are about 40 registered Republicans in West Carroll Parish. Fiske, serving his second term as mayor, is a former alderman. He said he and the others were not making the party shift with expectations of party favors. He said the time to set up a two-party system seemed opportune "now that we have a Republican president."

"We are interested in the betterment of Louisiana and the South and we believe this is the way to attain such betterment," he said.

Detention Homes Controversy Point

BATON ROUGE, La., April 25.—UP—Judges of the state have expressed mixed views on the question of building detention homes for juveniles by the Welfare Department.

The state Welfare Board has received summaries on queries made of judges on the question. Some favor such homes if they are paid for locally. A few favored having the Welfare Department build and operate them. Some found no necessity for such facilities in their areas.

ENROUTE HOME—Lt. Roy M. Jones, left, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Sgt. Gerald Neighbors of Herford, Texas, read a copy of Stars and Stripes aboard the plane that carried them from Seoul, Korea, to Tokyo on the first leg of their long trip home. Both men were released by the Reds April 20. (NEA Radiophoto.)

Electrical Engineers Are Organized Here

Hugh B. Balfour, division engineer for Louisiana Power & Light Company, was elected chairman of the Monroe sub-section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at a dinner meeting held Tuesday night at the Barn in West Monroe.

Don Bivens, electrical engineer, Brown Paper Mill, was elected secretary-treasurer and H. M. Rhodes, consulting engineer, was appointed program and publicity chairman. The new members committee consists of Percy Lubke, chairman, Ford, Bacon & Davis Construction Company; D. F. Red Burkhalter, Collins Electric Company; and Dick Bailey, Louisiana Power & Light Company.

The American Institute of Electrical Engineers has a world-wide membership of more than 42,000. The institute was founded in 1884 to further electrical engineering and the allied arts and to assist the individual engineer. It has played a major role in the development of uses of electrical power in the past six decades. Through the institute, graduates and student engineers are kept abreast of discoveries, inventions, and other advances in the electrical field. To further this purpose, in addition to the activities of the local sections, the institute holds four general meetings annually in different parts of the country to review and discuss progress. District meetings and special technical conferences are also held each year.

The industrial growth of Monroe over the past decade has enabled this professional society to be formed in the Twin Cities. All electrical engineers in the Twin Cities are urged to contact Percy Lubke at Ford, Bacon & Davis Construction Company, if they are interested in becoming members.

The Monroe - West Monroe organization, being at present a sub-section of the Shreveport section, was organized by a group of distinguished electrical engineers, headed by Chairman W. C. Morris, Jr., Assistant Mr. Morris in the organizational meeting were Carl Pons, ex-chairman, S. M. Sharp, national sub-section committee, A. M. Randolph, publicity committee chairman, and L. T. Williams, ex-chairman, A. I. E. E.

Georgia Tucker Summer Roundup Dates Announced

The principal and faculty, together with the executive board of Georgia Tuckers Parent-Teacher Association, have invited the parents and the pre-school age children to come by the school either on Thursday, April 30, or Friday, May 1, for a summer round-up program. Purpose of the round-up is to register the children for later school.

Hours for the registration will be from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. both days. The group has requested that parents whose surnames begin with A through M register on Thursday. Families whose names begin with N through the alphabet are asked to register on Friday.

If for any reason, it will not be convenient for a parent to register at the time indicated, parents are urged to come at the most convenient time.

Each child should be accompanied by a parent or guardian. The child's birth certificate should be brought for the registration.

Colored Methodist Leaders Ordained

Bishop Robert Brooks, New Orleans, presiding over the sessions of the Louisiana annual conference held in St. James Methodist Church, Monroe, arranged the ordination service and the service for the retirement of ministers for Saturday night instead of on Sunday morning.

Rev. N. P. Perry, superintendent of the Lake Charles district delivered the ordination sermon. The following were ordained: Nathaniel P. Williams and Arthur A. Robinson, Jr., while elders installed were: Ellis Slater, Samuel W. Walker, W. S. P. Norris, Arthur L. White, Sr. and Rogers Transper.

Saturday night was given over to youth and youth adults of the conference.

The head of the school of electrical engineering at Louisiana Polytechnical Institute in Ruston, H. J. Netkin and Professors Sam Gullatt, Leslie Dyson, W. E. Owen and Milton Johnson were visitors to the organizational meeting.

Piano Auditions Will Be Held In Winnsboro May 8

WINNSBORO, April 25. (Special) Adjudication of 30 piano students of the Winnsboro, Baskin and Mangham communities will begin May 8 when Dr. Isahel Sciotti, nationally famed pianist and teacher, arrives here to preside at hearings sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers, according to an announcement by Mrs. C. L. Moore Jr., local piano teacher and a member of the guild.

In addition to Mrs. Moore, teachers in this area sponsoring the auditions are Mrs. J. Noble Hatch, Baskin, and Mrs. Ira Hixon, Mangham. The auditions are private, Mrs. Moore said, in order to give each pupil the opportunity to do his or her best. Accuracy, tone quality, rhythm, and phrasing are four of 32 points considered by the judge. Three to 10 numbers are played by the student, who may be a beginner or ready for the concert stage.

Professional aid is given the especially talented, but the guild makes contribution to American musical life by what it does for the average pupil who will later become a music committee member in his or her church or club.

Scout Leaders Meet For April In Mer Rouge

MER ROUGE, April 25 (Special) —The northern district of Boy Scout personnel had its April meeting here with Frank Hawthorne presiding as scout commissioner at the roundtable, and Dick Hornbeck, district chairman, presiding over the committee meeting.

The meeting opened with Scout Sonny Pratt of Beckman in the chair. Reports were rendered of individual troops, showing their progress. Summary reports of the northern district were given by committee chairmen as follows: Organization and extension, Dr. R. L. Swartz; advancement, O. W. Riley; camping and activities, James T. Bryant; finance, Harry Rogers; Cub commissioner, David Snyder; Scout commissioner, Frank P. Hawkins.

The following visitors were present at the meeting: N. B. Pratt, Harmon Haley, Sonny Pratt, Oren Robertson, C. S. Reeves, F. R. Stamm, David Snyder, R. L. Swartz, Robert Hurst, Otis Nale, F. P. Hawkins, O. W. Riley, M. M. Crowe, D. F. Fragala, Harry Rogers, James T. Bryant, Dick Hornbeck, R. C. Windsor, Herbert Sisson.

The northern district will hold its camporee at Lake Providence this week end and the eastern district by special invitation will join with them.

Ransom School Holding Summer Roundup Apr. 30

The summer round-up will be held at Ransom School April 30 at 8 a.m. All parents who live in this community and who have children who will be starting in the first grade next year are urged to avail themselves of this free medical service.

Examinations will be in charge of Dr. Hamilton from Riverside and Dr. Mortimer Raphael assisted by Miss Tarver, a nurse, from the Ouachita Parish Health Unit. Mrs. Clark, the principal, wishes to stress the importance of children being in perfect physical condition when they start to school. Little children are faced with so many adjustments to be made that certainly they should not also have a major health problem to face.

McGuire Park Schedules One-Day Golf Tournament

Begin Qualifying Today For Event Set Next Sunday

The McGuire Park Golf Club of West Monroe will be host to the niblick wielders of north Louisiana next Sunday as the McGuire's offer their first one-day tournament, the kind of event that is rapidly catching the fancy of week-end golf enthusiasts over this section of the country.

Qualifying starts today and will continue through next Saturday, but those golfers challenging for medalist honors and a place in the championship flight will not qualify until Saturday. Each flight will be made up of eight players, and qualifying for flights will consist of 18 holes of medal play.

Awards worth over $500 will be distributed to the players.

Coach Joe Aillet of Louisiana Tech has informed McGuire Park's tournament committee that he is sending his college team over to contend for the big prize. Bobby Cupit, Longview, Tex., brother of McGuire's new pro, "Buster" Cupit, will be on hand to do battle with such local stalwarts as Johnny Myers, the Bastrop slammer who won Municipal Golf Club's one-day meet here last Sunday; Bill Jones, runner-up in the Muni show last week; and Jimmy Green, Henry Gilliland, and E. E. Lawson, some of the fast improving amateurs, and a host of other golfers in and around the Twin Cities.

Frankie Parker, once considered one of America's greatest tennis players who is now connected with Krafco Container Corporation, West Monroe, will also be among the challengers.

McGuire's course, long considered one of the finest in this section of the state, is in fine shape for the event, according to Kenny Holt, chairman of the tournament committee. The greens have been recently dressed in preparation for the meet, and the links is due to be in its best shape for the visitors.

Extra activities will include a luncheon, given by McGuire's ladies auxiliary, will be served contestants free of charge, and a dance is on tap for Saturday night.

Individual entry fee will be $7.50. Tee prize in each flight, will be a pair of golf shoes.

Royal Vale 1st In $20,000 'Cap At Bowie Track

BOWIE, Md., April 25 (UP)—Royal Vale, an English-bred 3-year-old, scored an upset today by winning the first stakes victory on a dirt track the $20,000-added Bowie Handicap.

Owned by Mrs. Esther Dupont and imported to this country two years ago, the winner paid $16.20, $8.80 and $3.60.

Royal Vale was last in the six-horse field at the half-mile post, but closed with a rush to finish two and a half lengths ahead of O'Brien Phipps' Ancestor, the early leader.

Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords' Post Card was third, paying $2.30, and Ancestor was fourth.

Ancestor paid $11.40, $3.80 and Post Card, $2.20.

Bill Boland piloted the winner home over the mile and a sixteenth in just three fifths of a second off the track record of 1:44 1-5 set in 1928 by Missstep.

The former jumper was ridden out, but not threatened, in the stretch run. Ancestor had a comfortable lead in the first half mile but tired on the money despite the hard riding of Nick Wall.

Donald Lillis, who recently replaced Larry MacPhail as Bowie president, was in the winner's circle to present the trophy.

Pro Grid Cardinals Sign Quarterback

CHICAGO, April 25 (UP)—The Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League announced today the signing of a "sleeper" quarterback.

He's 26-year-old Ray Nagel, recruited personally by new coach Joe Stydahar.

Nagel was graduated from UCLA in 1950 after four years as quarterback and tailback for the Uclans. After a brief stint in the Navy, he returned to UCLA as backfield coach, a position he has held the last two years.

Stydahar said he was familiar with Nagel's play during the latter's college days. The new Card is an excellent passer, said Stydahar.

Golf Writers Name Bob Hope For Award

CHICAGO, April 25 (UP)—The Golf Writers Association of America today picked comedian Bob Hope as the man who made the outstanding contribution to golf in 1952.

Hope was selected in a nationwide ballot to receive the golf writers annual William D. Richardson Trophy. The trophy is named for the late golf editor of the New York Times.

The golf writers said Hope has been one of the most energetic individual forces in golf and has been the most enthusiastic volunteer in show business in helping to promote the game.

Carter-Collins Referee Cleared Of Negligence

By JACK FROST

BOSTON, April 25 (UP)—The Massachusetts Boxing Commission Saturday cleared Referee Tommy Rawson of "negligence" for letting Jimmy Carter floor Tommy Collins 10 times in their lightweight championship fight.

After a brief meeting, commissioner Henry Lamar issued a statement which said "it was decided that there was no negligence on the part of any official connected with the contest and apparently Collins suffered no serious injuries."

Just in case, however, the officials ordered Collins to undergo a "thorough examination by specialists designed by the commission." Rawson, a licensed referee for 13 years, appeared in person before the commission as did Dr. Edward H. Hommel, the physician who sat behind Collins' corner.

The unsuccessful challenger agreed with the commission's decision.

The only thing he resented was the criticism directed at Rawson for not stopping the one-sided battle.

Though he was knocked off his feet 10 times, had one eye battered closed and had to be helped to his corner, Collins said his opponent, lightweight champion Jimmy Carter, "never lands a clean punch."

"I never got hit on the chin once," he said.

The boxing experts and thousands across the nation who watched the fight on television disagreed.

Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter called a special meeting of the state boxing commission to discuss the fight which was stopped in the fourth round when Collins' seconds jumped into the ring after he had been knocked down the 10th time.

Former boxer Barney Ross said, "I never saw such a brutal affair."

Some women who telephoned newspapers in other cities said they had to turn away from the television screen the fight was so brutal.

The Chicago Tribune said editorially the glory of Carter's victory was "lost in the unbelievable incompetence of" the referee. It demanded an investigation by the governor.

Robert K. Christenberry, chairman of the New York Boxing Commission who watched the fight on television, demanded, "where were the doctors? Why didn't they stop it quicker? Everything we've done to make boxing a clean, competitive sport they've thrown to the wind."

All This Lad Needed Was A Little Boost

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 25 (UP)—Charles Gibbs, a Pine Bluff junior high shot putter, could only make 43 feet on his first two throws during an invitational meet here today.

He stepped up for his last toss, hoisted the shot to his shoulder, leaned back and:

Bang! A starter's gun for the 100-yard dash went off behind him.

Result: A 46-foot 9 inch toss winning the contest and Gibbs' best shot of the year.

Calhoun Splits 2 Games, Faces Ouachita Next

CALHOUN, La., April 25 (Special)—The Calhoun High School baseball team split a pair of games this week, drubbing St. Matthew's of Monroe, 10-1, and losing a 5-3 battle to the Ruston Bearcats.

In the St. Matthew's game, Tommy Roan went all the way, allowing only four hits in a game that was called after six innings.

In the Ruston scrap, Joe White was moving along with a one-hitter until the fifth inning. Then with one out, Richard Mitchell took a line drive for the second out, and in his eagerness to double Segars off first, he threw wild, allowing Segars to return safely. Ruston then proceeded to bash out four singles, coupled with an error by Ken Coan, to push all five of their runs across the plate.

Calhoun added two in the sixth and one in the seventh. Lane Martin came into the game to strike out D. J. Finley with runners on second and third to end the game.

Tuesday Coach D. R. Terrell takes his Calhoun outfit to Monroe in quest of revenge over the Ouachita Parish High School Lions who beat out his boys in an extra inning game here recently.

Cen-La's Track Meet Will Take Place Tuesday

Two of the prettiest girl grapplers in the trade clash in half of the double-main event Tuesday night at Kallio's Arena, when Ethel Brown, Columbus, Ohio meets Barbara Baker, Tulsa, Oklahoma. In the other feature, Jack Curtis takes on villainous Don Martin, Covington, Ky.; both matches going two-out-of-three falls to win, with a 75 minute time limit.

The photos of the two young ladies, on display at the arena, have been drawing favorable comments from the fans all week; and according to promoter Kallio, these girl combatants are "the most attractive wrestlers of the present day." If their pictures are any indication, Kallio can qualify for the understatement of the year.

Martin, wrestling out of Shreveport, used every trick in the book, foul and fair, to wipe up the mat with George Curtis last Tuesday night, and now thinks he's ready to do the same to Jack. He will find the latter a much different opponent than George, for he not only has had more experience and knows more holds, but he doesn't stand for any villainous tactics without dishing out just as many or more.

Martin, the type of unpopular ringman who tries to pretend he's not doing anything illegal, has had the fans howling for blood—his, in his last two appearances here, both vs. the younger Curtis. Jack will no doubt be out not only to teach the young villain a lesson, but to avenge brother George's unpopular loss to the Kentuckian.

Two short time-limit matches, between young men from West Monroe, will feature the program. James Hearfield will fight LaVerne Winger, in the first match, which will probably be the curtain-raiser at 8 o'clock; and Sherman Johnson, an avid wrestling fan though deaf and dumb, will meet Leroy Stead, in the second amateur bout.

Garageman - wrestler Bill Barney will referee both professional wrestling matches.

HARRISON BEATS BASCOM

ST. LOUIS, April 25 (UP)—Tommy Harrison, 180, fighting with sharp uppercuts and jabs, punched out a split decision over Wesley Bascom, 180, tonight in a 10-round nationally televised fight at the St. Louis Winter Garden.

Girls Wrestle Tuesday

PINEVILLE, April 25 (Special)—The once postponed Central Louisiana High School Rally track and field meet will be held at Louisiana College Tuesday afternoon, starting at noon. Around 600 athletes from the 26 participating schools in the area will be competing.

Winners in the events will be decided by comparing the best times in several heats. Only the 100 yard dash will have preliminary and finals. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the three top men in Class A, B and C. Winners of the first five places will contribute points towards the championship trophies. Two trophies will be awarded in each class. The champions and runners-up last year were Oakdale and Winnfield in Class A, Bunkie and Basile in Class B and Georgetown and Roanoke in Class C.

The rally is scheduled to begin at noon with the preliminaries of the 100-yard dash. At 12:30 p. m. the pole vault, shot put, broad jump and javelin will start. At 1:00 p. m., the 120 yard high hurdles; at 1:25 p. m. the 440-yard relay; at 1:50 p. m., the 100-yard dash finals. At 2:20 p. m. the mile run; at 2:50 p. m., the 880-yard relay and at 3:20 p. m., the high jump, discus, and hop, step and dash; at 3:40 p. m., the 440-yard dash; at 4:00 p. m. the 180-yard low hurdles; at 4:20 p. m. the 880-yard dash; at 4:40 p. m., the 220-yard dash and at 5:00 p. m., the mile relay.

Class A schools entered in the meet are Menard, Oakdale, Pineville, Jena, Leesville, LaSalle, Tallulah, Winnfield, Marksboro and Anacoco. Class B schools are Bunkie, Basile, Cottonport, Bordelonville, Plaquemine, Hessmer, Pollock, Boyce, Graysen, Dry Prong, and Simmesport. The small Class C field includes Roanoke, Georgetown, Elizabeth, Cheneyville and Sicily Island.

Spectators at the meet will be considered the guests of the schools, the rally and Louisiana College and no admissions will be charged.

Austrian Tennis Team Takes 2-1 Lead Over Egypt

CAIRO, April 25 (UP)—Austria took a 2-1 lead over Egypt in the first round of European zone Davis Cup play today when Hans Redl and Alfred Huber won the doubles match from Adly Shafel and Marcel Coen, 6-1, 7-5, 9-7.

Redl had pulled Austria even earlier in the day when he won the fifth set of his singles match with Shafel, which was called because of darkness yesterday when the score was 4-all in the fifth set. Redl won seven of 12 games to lock, Boyce, Graysen, Dry Prong, and Simmesport. The small Class C field includes Roanoke, Georgetown, Elizabeth, Cheneyville and Sicily Island.

The final singles matches will be played tomorrow.

Davis Cup action in Europe gets into full swing next week end, with the following first-round pairings: Finland vs. Ireland; Yugoslavia vs. Switzerland; Luxembourg vs. Norway; Ceylon vs. The Netherlands; and Spain vs. Israel.

Congressmen To Ask Houses For May 23 'Golf Day'

WASHINGTON, April 25 (UP)—Rep. Jack Westland (R-Wash.), National Amateur golf champion, has asked that the House go on record as favoring observance of May 23, 1953, as National Golf Day.

A resolution he introduced yesterday said that on that day one of the world's outstanding golfers, while playing 18 holes at Oakmont Country Club, Pittsburgh, "will be competing at the same time with hundreds of thousands of America's golfers on this country's 4,970 public and private fairways" in the interest of contributions to two organizations.

Julius Boros, National Open champion, will play the round and golfers everywhere can compete with him by matching cards. Funds raised are to be divided equally between the United Service Organizations (U. S. O.) and the National Golf Fund.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) is submitting a similar measure in the senate.

Miss Hart Cops Connaught Club Tennis Tourney

LONDON, April 25 (UP)—Doris Hart, America's No. 2 woman tennis player, and 1951 Wimbledon champion from Coral Gables, Fla., won her first 1953 European title Saturday by defeating her friend and doubles partner, Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, in the

Racing Driver Returns Home—Still In Coma

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 25 (UP)—Bobby Ball came home today for the first time since January 4, the day he entered a disastrous midjet auto race at Gardena, Calif.

But Ball, who suffered a skull fracture in a smashup during the race, still lies unconscious.

Although critical, he was taken from the last of two hospitals in which he spent more than 100 days in a coma and was moved to a specially built room in his own home.

The 26-year-old Ball had been considered one of the Nation's most promising young drivers.

Now, his doctors say, Ball's racing days are over.

The idol of Phoenix youngsters, the grinning, bespectacled Ball returned from the 1951 Indianapolis classic, in which he raced fifth, to a hometown bursting with pride. He was named Arizona's "professional athlete of the year."

When he was injured in the Gardena pileup, Bobby's wife, Sandra, rushed to his side. She hasn't left him since, for long.

"I think Bobby's getting better," she assures her friends. "It will take time, of course, but he'll pull through."

finals of the Connaught Club's grass court tournament.

Miss Fry is America's third ranked player.

Maureen Connolly of San Diego, the U. S. No. 1 who holds the Wimbledon, American, Australian and Irish titles, is scheduled to make her first European appearance in the Italian national tournament at Rome, May 4-10.

Al Besselink Third Round Leader At Las Vegas

Rich Tournament Of Champions In Hot Final Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 25 (AP)—Husky Al Besselink, from Graceland, N. Y., fashioned his second straight under-par 68 today and with a first-round 72 moved into the lead with a 54-hole score of 208 in the $35,000 Tournament of Champions.

Running down a 14-foot birdie putt on the 18th green before a gallery of more than 3,000 fans, the blond, 29-year-old professional wound up another fine performance and grabbed a three-stroke lead over his nearest rivals.

The select field of 20, all winners of a major tournament this past year, heads into the final 18 holes tomorrow over the 7,102-yard, par 36-38-72 course of the Desert Inn Country Club.

The top prize is $10,000 and a tight finale is in prospect.

Five players were tied behind Besselink at 211.

They were Lew Worsham, whose 139 led the pack at the midway mark but who dropped back with a 72 this bright afternoon; Cary Middlecoff, Chandler Harper and Earl Stewart Jr., each with 71; and Ted Kroll, whose 31 on the first nine holes was the lowest of the tournament to date but who went to 39 strokes coming home for a 70.

Further back, at 213, were Jimmy Demaret and John Palmer with a pair of 72's, and tied at 215 were Dave Douglas, who had 69, and Tony Holguin, with 70.

Tommy Bolt, in complete control of the famous Bolt "temperament," trimmed his score from his earlier 73-74 to a 69, and his two-some mate, Sam Snead, moved in the same groove. Snead and his ailing left hand, after early rounds of 79 and 73, got down to even par 72. Snead still is in the cellar, however.

Lloyd Mangrum, runner up to Snead in pre-tournament favoritism, failed to make his expected move toward the top. Mangrum followed his earlier 70-72 with a disappointing 74 for 216 where he was tied with Bolt and Jerry Barber.

Trailing behind were Jack Burke, Jr., with a 72 for 217; Julius Boros, the National Open champion, and Dutch Harrison, with 73's apiece for 218; Jim Turnesa, 74, for 220; Jim Ferrier, 75, for 222; Jimmy Clark, 78, for 223, and Snead.

Besselink, who qualified for this inaugural tournament as a champion by winning the St. Louis City Open last July, put together rounds of 33-35 for his 68. He started off with two birdies and added another on the ninth. He shot under par on the tenth and 13th and had only one poor hole, the 17th, where he got into one of several lakes dotting the course.

Besselink's longest birdie putt was a 30-footer on the ninth. A good-looking, well-built youngster, he turned pro in 1949 after winning several amateur tournaments, including the Southern Intercollegiate while attending Miami University in Florida.

Kroll's first nine was the most spectacular of the day. He sank putts of six, 10, 15 and 18 feet for a round of 31. But he three-putted the tenth, three-putted from the edge of the green on 13, and hit a trap on 15.

with a 34 going out, but he missed a chip shot on the 11th, was robbed of an eagle three on the 15th when his ball curled out of the cup, missed the green on 16 and three-putted the 17th.

Mangrum birdied the fifth, but that was his lone bid of the round as he teared around in unpectacular 36-38-74.

Third round scores:

LTI Track Team Finishes 2nd In Class C Division

Louisiana Training Institute's green track team finished second in the class C division Saturday afternoon at the North Louisiana High School Rally at Louisiana Tech.

The meet, for the district championship, found Start High coping first place, with 67 and one-half points; L. T. I. second, with 64 and one-half; and Benton third, with 61 and one-half. Waterproof, Dunback, Elm Grove, and Bryce-land finished in that order.

Although the Pels copped only four firsts, their point total, based on a 5-2-2-1 basis, was helped considerably by the fact that every entry placed no lower than fourth.

L. T. I. first place winners were: Don Barrett, in the 120 yard high hurdles; Johnny Hernandez, hop-skip-jump; and Henry LaFleur, who won the half mile race for the second consecutive year. Hernandez also tied for first in the pole vault.

Other Pelican spikemen and point - garnering events: Willie Gene Garcia, fourth in high jump and second in the broad jump; Hernandez, third in shotput and javelin throw; Richard Minton, fourth in the 100-yard dash; Joe Dunn, fourth in the mile run; Barrett, Minton, Will Brewer and LaFleur, fourth in the 440 yard relay; LaFleur, third in the 440 yard dash; Darwin Hamilton, second in the discus throw; Wallace Ashworth, third in the 180 yard low hurdles; Barrett, Brewer, Calvin King, and Minton, third in the 880 yard relay; Barrett, second in the 220 yard dash; and Minton, Brewer, Ronnie May, and LaFleur, third in the mile relay.

Near Fight Steals Show As Giants Down Dodgers

BROOKLYN, April 25 (AP)—A near-fist fight between Brooklyn's Carl Furillo and New York's Sal Maglie almost stole the thunder from today's 7-5 come-from-behind Giant victory over the Dodgers.

The bitterness that has been brewing between the rivals over the years erupted in the Dodgers' half of the third inning when Furillo flung his bat at Maglie following a close inside pitch by the Giant right-hander. The Dodger outfielder then charged out to the mound but plate umpire Larry Goetz and Giant Catcher Sal Yvars restrained Furillo before any blows could be struck.

The game was delayed several moments as players had rushed out of both dugouts but Goetz, with the help of his three fellow umpires restored order in short time. Both belligerents were allowed to remain in the game and Maglie calmly proceeded to fan the still fuming Furillo.

New York's Carl Furillo, who hit a home run in the eighth, was the only Dodger to reach base. He was out at first on a bunt by Willie Mays.

Other Pelican spikemen and point - garnering events: Willie Gene Garcia, fourth in high jump and second in the broad jump; Hernandez, third in shotput and javelin throw; Richard Minton, fourth in the 100-yard dash; Joe Dunn, fourth in the mile run; Barrett, Minton, Will Brewer and LaFleur, fourth in the 440 yard relay; LaFleur, third in the 440 yard dash; Darwin Hamilton, second in the discus throw; Wallace Ashworth, third in the 180 yard low hurdles; Barrett, Brewer, Calvin King, and Minton, third in the 880 yard relay; Barrett, second in the 220 yard dash; and Minton, Brewer, Ronnie May, and LaFleur, third in the mile relay.

Miss Jean Strauss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Strauss of this city, will marry Mr. Saul A. Mintz, son of Mrs. Sam Katz and the late Mr. Morris Mintz of New Orleans, in June. The wedding will take place at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club.

Miss June Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lewis, whose engagement to Dr. Armand G. McHenry, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. A. G. McHenry of this city, is announced today. The wedding will be solemnized in May.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Moore of Houston, Texas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Jo Cunningham, to Mr. O. A. Kidd, son of Mrs. Milton Everett Kidd and the late Mr. Kidd of Choudrant. The wedding will be an event of June 12 in Houston.

Mrs. Milton Dale Rawls was before her recent marriage Celia Ann Mantrozios, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Mantrozios, of this city and formerly of Shreveport. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rawls of West Monroe.

Mrs. Thomas Rodman Goethals, Jr., was before her wedding in New Haven, Connecticut, Martha Gregor Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Thompson of this city. Mr. Goethals is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Goethals of Boston, Massachusetts.

Before her marriage on April 18, Mrs. Claude Eugene Hardin was Sue Elva Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hunt. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hardin of Sterlington. Vows were exchanged at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe.

Youngsters Are Entertained At Cheniere Dam

The pre-confirmation class of the Temple B'Nai Israel was entertained recently with an outing at Cheniere Dam. Mrs. E. R. Smith, the class teacher, was in charge of the day's activities which were chaperoned by Bill Goldsmith and Dr. and Mrs. S. Soloman.

Members of the class enjoying the occasion were Sandra Jo Dorn, Carol Haas of Crossett, Ark., Mildred Gene Levi, Clara Faye Solomon, Joy Goldsmith, S. J. Shlosman and Charles Snyder of Bastrop. Guests taking part in the activity were Ruth Ann Boggs, Edward and David Solomon, Bunny Girault, Ronny and Patty Smith, Edward and Donald Solomon of Louisville, Ky.

When spring cleaning, don't forget your auto. A few thin coats of fresh white shellac on the underside of the car's floor carpeting will freshen it for summer use.

Prevent outer covering of your lamp cords from fraying near the sockets by giving them two thin coats of fresh white shellac. Shellac is an excellent insulator.

W.S.C.S. Of St. Paul's Church Holds Open House

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of St. Paul's Methodist church is holding an open house between three and five o'clock today at the newly completed parsonage, 1626 Milton Street. Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Giles will be honored guests at the open house.

Members of the congregation and friends of the group are cordially invited to take this opportunity to bid the Giles, who are concluding a six-year residence in the Monroe district parsonage, farewell. Rev. Giles has served as district superintendent.

Mrs. John Brown, chairman of the local church activities in the W. S. C. S., is general chairman of the open house. She is to be assisted by her committee and Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Oliphant in the arrangements.

Receiving during the hours will be chairman and co-chairman of the parsonage building committee, Shelby Hill, J. W. Usrey and their wives; chairman of the board of stewards, Slade Brown and Mrs. Brown; chairman of the board of trustees, Grayson Guthrie and Mrs. Guthrie; chairman of the finance committee, Claude Gilliland and Mrs. Gilliland; chairman of membership committee, John Kelso and Mrs. Kelso.

Mrs. Peterson Reviews Novel

"Desire," who became the desired one, was reviewed by Mrs. F. H. Peterson for the Bonhomie Book Club. The club met in the home of Mrs. L. H. Leverett for their regular meeting, with Mrs. Alton McCready, co-hostess.

Desire, authored by Annamaria Selinko, was the nom de plume of a young French girl after her rejection as wife-to-be of Napoleon Bonaparte. Mrs. Peterson in her inimitable voice for story telling retold the life of Eugenie de Mariselles, as lived during the rise and fall of Napoleon's flamboyant era.

Preceding the book review members of the club heard the treasurer's report of their donation to Red Cross. Plans for the social meeting ending the club year were discussed. Mrs. George Forman, president, appointed Mrs. E. L. Hoskins as chairman of the social meeting. Mrs. Warren Breard and Mrs. H. V. Collins to assist.

A report was made by Mrs. Roland Waldroup, program chairman, that the Bonhomie Book Club year book, which contains the club programs for the year, tied for first place honors at the fifth district meeting of Federated Women's Clubs.

Assorted sandwiches with iced drinks were served to the guests. Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. B. V. Cummings, Mrs. W. B. Aycock, Jr., Mrs. H. M. Rhodes, Mrs. Paul Bauer, and members, Mrs. Hal Laymon, Mrs. Hoskins, Mrs. Waldroup, Mrs. O. Willis, Mrs. W. D. McGee, Jr., Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Forman by the hostesses, Mrs. Leverett and Mrs. McCready.

There wasn't enough tuna salad left over from yesterday's lunch and a friend dropped in unexpectedly at noon time. Have you ever known it to fail? Fortunately there were some dried roasted almonds on the "emergency" shelf. These were quickly added to the salad to extend it. Extend it, the almonds did and incidentally made the salad taste better than ever.

During the months when head colds are an ever-present nuisance, it's a good idea to wipe the telephone with a cloth dipped in disinfecting solution and wrung nearly dry.

Musical Clubs Hold Impressive Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Moment Musical Coterie and the Chansonettes was held Saturday in the ballroom of the Virginia Hotel where the group discussed instruments.

Mr. Truman McCrea gave an interesting talk on band instruments and illustrated a number of these to the young musicians, who are studying instruments at this time.

Jerry Lester, president of the Chansonettes, presided over the meeting and welcomed Mrs. F. V. Allison, president of the Musical Coterie.

Following a brief interlude for refreshments, Betty Hemphill, president of the Moment Musical Coterie, introduced the following members and the numbers which they played: Louise Lester, "The Hunting Song"; Nancy Snellings, "Hail To the Spirit of Liberty"; Amy Hood, "Stars and Stripes Forever"; Gay Demmay, "The Liberty Bell"; Louise Gray, "The Caisson Song."

Hostesses for the meeting were Nancy Snelling, Carey Sue Turner, Theda Rose Pettigrew and Linda Steele.

Others attending, in addition to these taking part in the program and the hostesses, were: Betty Hemphill, Ann McDonald, Carol McKinley, Marie Nelson, Lucy Lu Turpin, Martha Harper, Janice Strong, Roxie Ann Roberts, Mrs. Eloise Stanhope, Mrs. James Caldwell, Mrs. Brisco Trousdale, the counselors.

Miss Thompson Pledges In Dwight Memorial Chapel

On April 11th at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon in Dwight Memorial Chapel in New Haven, Conn., Miss Martha Gregor Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Robert F. Thompson of Monroe was married to Thomas Rodman Goethals of New York City, son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Goethals of Boston, Massachusetts.

Dr. John J. Hart heard their vows and the nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Jo Gillespie.

The bride made a charming picture in a mouseline de soire gown. Her wedding veil of Brussels lace, worn by four generations of the Goethals family, was attached to a lace bonnet outlined with seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of brides roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Mr. Goethals was attended by Dr. Daniel X. Freedman, best man. Ushers were Col. Martin Phillipsborn Jr., Henry Goethals, Peter Goethals and John R. Thompson.

The brides matron-of-honor and only attendant was Mrs. Daniel X. Freedman who wore a gown of Nile green mouseline de soire fashioned similar to the bride's. Yellow iris and yellow roses formed her bouquet.

A reception was held following the wedding at the International House with Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, parents of the bride, as hosts. The bride's table was daintily appointed with a white cloth and a low centerpiece of white gladioli, white roses and feverfew. The punch bowl occupied one end and at the other was the tiered wedding cake decorated with white roses.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda the bride and bridegroom will be at home in New York City. The bride's travel suit was of light brown with darker brown accessories. She is a graduate of Louisiana State University and received her Masters degree from Yale University. Her sorority is Chi Omega. The bridegroom graduated from Roxbury Latin School and Harvard. He is completing his doctorate at Columbia University.

Old Jewelry Discussed By Mr. Sam Rubin

Sam Rubin, a prominent local jeweler, addressed the Cosmopolitan Club at their April meeting at the La Casa Tea Room.

Mr. Rubin gave an informative talk on antique jewelry. In connection with his talk, he showed several handsome pieces from his rare collection of antiques.

The table decorations carried out the theme of April showers. Red roses overflowing from an open green umbrella were used as a centerpiece. Placecards along the T-shaped table followed out this motif, with tiny umbrellas decorated with a red rosebud.

Guests introduced were Mrs. David Weeks, Mrs. Ella Weigle and Mrs. Carl Reigh.

Members present were: Messrs. J. E. Alexander, E. A. Bishop, Carl Davis, Robert Dinkel, John Dorsey, R. W. E. Gulezow, W. M. Hochstetler, Joel B. Huston, Hoyle Light, Irvin Kilpatrick, George Lewis, Ralph Ludwick.

Olen Manhart, K. M. McGoldrick, Fred Moses, Ben Patterson, Bobby Pappas, Ted Straussner, E. L. Treseltzch, B. E. McWilliams, A. S. Hakim, Claude Acree.

Prominent Couple's Troth Is Announced Here Today

Wedding Of June Grisham Lewis And Dr. Armand McHenry, Jr., Will Be Of Widespread Interest; Ceremony Will Take Place In May

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar R. Lewis announce the engagement of their daughter, June Grisham, to Dr. Armand Goldsmith McHenry, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. A. G. McHenry.

Piano Recital Scheduled For Monday Night

Preliminary to local observances of National Music Week, will be the annual spring recital, presented by music students of Mrs. E. Everett Lawson on Monday night, at the Neville High School Auditorium. The public is invited to attend this recital which will feature several talented young musicians, in a diversified program.

Participants will include three students who won superior ratings and national honors with a ten-piece memorization program in the 1952 National Piano Playing Auditions. These students, Ouida Diane McGee, Janice Strong and Geraldine Weir have fulfilled requirements for both national and international awards in the Guild auditions for 1953, which will be held here April 27 to April 29.

Geraldine Weir, active in many musical activities of civic nature, will be a candidate for the Guild's High School Diploma as well as the International Member's Certificate, with a 15-piece memorization program. Janice Strong has also fulfilled requirements for International award with a 15-piece program.

Young Couple Exchange Vows In Little Rock

A spring wedding of simplicity was that of Miss Juanita Eason of Little Rock, Ark., and Temple Allen Busbice of Eros. The ceremony took place in Little Rock, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Delbert Burleson.

The Rev. Ray Branscum, pastor of the Smith Highland Baptist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Bill Burleson, as matron of honor. Mr. Wendell Sanders of Eros, served the groom as his best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held for members of both families and a few close friends. Assisting in serving punch and cake were Mrs. Garland Hicks and Mrs. Delbert Burleson.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the groom's mother and sister, Mrs. Fay Busbice and Miss Marilyn Busbice, both of Eros, and Mrs. Wendell Sanders, also of Eros.

Mr. and Mrs. Busbice will make their home at 425 West Twelfth Street in Little Rock.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were the groom's mother and sister, Mrs. Fay Busbice and Miss Marilyn Busbice, both of Eros, and Mrs. Wendell Sanders, also of Eros.

Mr. and Mrs. Busbice will make their home at 425 West Twelfth Street in Little Rock.

Others came in the afternoon and enjoyed birthday cake and ice cream and to wish Mr. Butler and Harold, Jr. a happy birthday.

With the bathing suit season not far off, many girls will want to do some exercises to get their thighs in trim. Heavy, flabby thighs are a great beauty problem with many women in the summer, because the bathing suit cuts across the thigh line, calling attention to it.

You can, of course, wear longer bathing suits with full skirts to hide unattractive bulges. But girls who have lovely figures otherwise will want to do something about their thighs so that they can wear youthful bathing suits.

Here are a few thigh exercises, for girls in normal health, intended to give greater firmness and tone to the flesh. If done in conjunction with proper dieting, they will also help to reduce the amount of flesh. If you aren't used to exercises, do them just once to start and work up to eight or 10 times each.

1. Stand with hands on hips and go from tiptoe to a squatting position. All bending must be in the knees while power comes from the thigh muscles. Back is kept straight.
2. Stand with hands on hips and alternate your legs with high steps, as a drum majorette does, letting your knees touch as close as possible to the stomach.
3. Lie on the floor or on a firm mattress. Raise each leg in turn to a right angle with the body. Keep knee straight. Hold a few seconds and bring leg down slowly.

Roamin' In The Rural

Springtime gives all of us a desire to visit to see the flowers and plants around us. Because of this urge Logtown Club members visited Haphazard Plantation, the home of Mr. and Mrs. U. B. Evans, Mrs. E. M. Granberry gives this account of this trip. Haphazard is surrounded by running roses on the fences. The native Verbena from Spain, the Louisiana native Iris of all colors, and the Amaryllis lilies were in full bloom. The Joan of Arc, a pure white Amaryllis, was an array of blossoms. Many varieties of honeysuckle with blooms of many colors are to be seen. The Zallii honeysuckle from Iowa was most beautiful. Another, not commonly grown, flower was the Bells of Ireland.

Among the many rare plants was a china berry tree from Oklahoma. Mrs. Evans was generous in giving us cuttings of many plants.

Club members making this tour were: Mrs. J. B. Filholt, Sr.; Mrs. J. B. Filholt, Jr.; Mrs. W. A. Calloway, Mrs. T. A. Calloway, Mrs. Marvin Ship, Mrs. James Pender, Mrs. Neil McHenry, Mrs. A. T. Stout, Mrs. W. J. Lowe and Mrs. E. M. Granberry, Sr. Others making the tour with Logtown were: Mrs. B. McQuiller, Mrs. Blanks Parker, Mrs. Dave Brown of Monroe. They visited Mrs. Earl's home at Crew Lake and Mrs. Earl joined them on the trip to Haphazard.

Grace says no trip is complete without good food and they found plenty of it, too.

National Home Demonstration Week

Each Home Demonstration Club in Ouachita Parish will celebrate National Home Demonstration Week May 3-9. Since this is the 50th anniversary of extension work, the theme of the celebration will be based on achievements of each club and club member.

C. M. Ferguson, national director of extension work sends congratulations to the Home Demonstration Club leaders. His message is: To the Local Leaders in Home Demonstration Work:

As we observe the eighth National Home Demonstration Week throughout the nation from May 3 to 9, may I compliment you. You are giving freely of your time and effort to help your neighbors, your community and your family build a better America. Together you are helping to make the American home a place where children can grow physically, mentally, work, and spiritually; where families can live in comfort and happiness. I like the way in which one farm woman has described the kind of home you are helping to achieve: "The home is the foundation of a nation, and when that home is managed by a well-informed homemaker who cooks well-balanced meals, clothes her family with well-fitted garments, and furnishes her home with care and good taste."

Country Club To Be Scene Of Mintz-Strauss Wedding

Miss Jean Strauss Will Be Early June Bride Of Saul A. Mintz Of New Orleans; Ceremony Will Be Here

Claiming widespread interest here and in New Orleans is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Strauss of this city, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Strauss, to Mr. Saul A. Mintz of New Orleans, son of Mrs. Sam Katz also of New Orleans and the late Mr. Morris Mintz.

Miss Strauss is the granddaughter of Mrs. F. Strauss and the late Mr. F. Strauss and Mrs. L. L. Lieber and the late Mr. Lieber, all of this city.

Mr. Mintz's mother is the former Miss Goldie Goldblum of New Orleans.

The bride-elect attended Sophie Newcomb, where she was a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi Sorority. Mr. Mintz was graduated from Newman school in New Orleans and is attending Tulane University where he is studying architecture. He is a member of Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity and will graduate in June.

The wedding vows will be exchanged Saturday evening, June 6, at the Bayou Deslards Country Club in this city.

Auxiliary Has April Meeting

The Woman's Auxiliary to the National Federation of Post Office Clerks, Local 792, met Friday evening, at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. L. L. Nash, with the president, Mrs. Thomas Zeagler, presiding.

Plans were made to have representation from the local auxiliary at the state convention to be held May 22 and 23 in Lake Charles. Mrs. Zeagler and Mrs. Nash were elected delegates and Mrs. Newton Horne and Mrs. Vernon Meers were elected to serve as alternate delegates.

The Monroe Auxiliary to N. F. P. O. C. has the honor of having two state officers as members. Mrs. Vaughan Gardner is state first vice president and Mrs. Henry Hoffman is state secretary. Mrs. Gardner will preside at the state convention this year. The president will be unable to attend.

A delicious salad course was served to the following members by the hostess: Mrs. Chas. Caldrone, Mrs. George Fortenberry, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Francis Hays, Mrs. Hoffman, Mrs. Horne, Mrs. Meers, Mrs. James Pittman, Mrs. Zeagler and Mrs. J. T. Edmonds.

We have the homemaker's ultimate goal. A nation with these homes will be prosperous, respected by the nations, and a blessing to the world.

There is no greater influence on human behavior in our society than the environment of our homes. You have shown that you, too, believe this as you continue to emphasize your theme, "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World."

In the challenging days ahead, perhaps it will be well for all of us to think through, thoughtfully and prayerfully, the ways in which we can more fully meet our responsibilities to the home and the community. This is the base from which we can go forward to new achievements; where we can develop the talents, knowledge, and skills to keep America free from want and the yoke of dictation.—C. M. Ferguson, director of extension work.

Freezing demonstration: Miss Estelle Fournett, food preservation specialist, L. S. U. and Miss Stella Jones, associate poultry specialist, L. S. U. will give demonstration on preparing fruits, vegetables and poultry for home freezing May 1 at 10 a.m. Agriculture Building, West Monroe.

Club Completes Plan For Benefit Tea, Antique Show

The Home Gardener Club plans for a benefit silver tea and antique show have been formulated, and will be held in the home of Mrs. W. E. Young, 711 Calypso Street on Thursday afternoon, April 30 from 3 to 6 o'clock.

This club is a comparatively young club, being in the fourth year since organization, but ever alert to help in any civic project or one that is beneficial in beautifying any part of the city in any way.

Each chairman met with Mrs. Frank V. Reitzell, the president, on Tuesday night, and gave an interesting report on her outline of duties assigned to her committee members.

Antiques are loved and appreciated more now than in any period of the past. Many have historical value and others are just acquired through other channels to add to collections already begun. This proves in many cases to become a very profitable hobby for many people, once they become interested in this diversion.

The public is invited to attend this late spring event of interest to the civic people of our Twin Cities.

Girl Scout News

"Anytime is camp time" say the Girl Scouts, and now with a beautiful troop camp of their own, weather really doesn't interfere much with their plans. Troop 27 was at camp for two days when it turned cold Saturday before last. Hiking is even more fun in cold weather, so the girls spent a good bit of time exploring the vicinity. After cooking a good meal at noon the girls, according to Lucy Huckabee, leader, spent the afternoon near the fireplace, practicing first aid, especially artificial respiration, under the direction of Elizabeth Leigh. The girls plan to work on a first aid badge, which obviously fits in with the Girl Scout motto "Be Prepared."

And for an afternoon snack they made doughnuts in a dutch oven in the kitchen. It had been ages since we heard of anyone's making doughnuts. Found out that there is a modern way — just poke a hole in canned biscuits, fry them and coat with icing. It sounds as if Troop 27 did all right by themselves in the food line, anyway.

At Pine Wood for the day that same Saturday was Troop 37, working on tent-foot requirements so that they can fly up. Under direction of leaders Joan Cook and Edna Shattuckness the girls worked on the flag ceremony until each girl had had a chance to take part. Then each girl gathered pine twigs and learned to make a fire. Returning from a short hike to the river they found that their big fire had burned to coals just right for cooking wieners on sticks. But the fire felt good, too!

When Troop 38 goes to camp for an overnight, they'll surely want breadtwists for breakfast. (most troops do) because they tried making them for the first time at a regular meeting recently in Lynda Bassett's back yard. We have the word of Lynda's Boy Scout brothers that the breadtwists were good. Skeptical of the girls cooking, they were persuaded to try one and were convinced.

A trip to camp on their meeting day was fun for Troop 12, fourth-grade Brownies of Sherrouse School. Accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Bryan, Mrs. James Bradley, Mrs. O. E. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sutton, the girls left for camp after school Monday and returned home before dark. There was time for exploring and a hike to the river before the wieners roast, which all enjoyed. Each girl learned to build a fire, and their leaders report that no girl used more than two matches. How's that for getting to be real outdoor girls!

Several troops are going to have successful overnights at Pine Wood as a result of the leader's training spent last Tuesday night at camp, going through the same activities that troops do. In other words, learning by doing. These leaders enjoyed singing around a campfire at dusk, cooking breadtwists for breakfast, and hiking through the woods as the girls do. They also were interested in such mundane matters as where dish towels are kept, how to turn on the hot water heater, or where to find a hammer. The following adults took part in the overnight: Mrs. F. F. Boner, Mrs. Harry Martin, Mrs. Theo Herr, Mrs. R. H. Hoffer, Mrs. Don Laburn, Mrs. Julius McKoin, Mrs. W. H. Shirley, and Mrs. Leo Ragland. Training was in charge of Miss Annis Klie, executive director.

Two important Scout events are scheduled for the week end. First is a camp rally to be held at Georgia Tucker School Friday night, May 1, at 7:30. Scouts and Brownies, families and friends are invited to the program, which will last only an hour. There will be a film on camping and the '53 pins will be awarded girls who qualified for them in the cookie sale. Let's see a good crowd. Surely it won't rain as hard as it did last year.

On next Saturday morning, May 2, the Girl Planning board meets at the office at 10:00. This group has done an excellent job this year. At their May meeting the girls will inform themselves about plans for day camp and other summer activities.

Don't forget about Friday night, 7:30, Georgia Tucker School. Plastic playing cards can be washed off with soap and water. No old thumb prints or sticky marks need spoil their appearance.

News From Public Library

Monday, April 20, saw the official opening of the new children's room at the Monroe branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. The opening of this room represents almost a year of planning between two interested groups, the Monroe Junior Charity League, the board of control of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. The library officials have known for a long time that one of the most pressing needs of the library was a room for the room for the children of Monroe. We have been buying children's books and attempting to build up the library collection, but the facilities for housing them were most inadequate. Instead of encouraging the children to stay at the library and read, we had to urge them to go home.

Last spring the members of the Junior Charity League offered to decorate and furnish a room for the children, if we could provide a room. It was decided to take the room which had been used for the storage of back issues of periodicals, provided that some disposition of the periodicals could be made. The purchase of a microfilm reader and more than 200 volumes of magazines on microfilm, solved this problem and the room was cleared out and placed at the disposal of the league. Work on the room started in February and was completed in about a month. Then the reference room was done over and after all of the work was completed, the children's room was officially opened.

In order to introduce the room to all of the children of Monroe, the members of the Junior Charity League contacted the principals of each school in Monroe and assigned them a day for their students to visit the school. The response has been most gratifying. The first school to visit the library was Lida Benton. The students of this school came to the library by classes. All of the children from the 2nd grade up called during the day. Other schools, bringing all of their students during the first week were Central Grammar School, Georgia Tucker and Ouachita Parish Grammar School. Some of the students from Barkdull Faulk School also visited the library the first week.

During the second week of the open house the students from Plum Street School, Lexington Avenue, Sherrouse and St. Matthews visited the library. Members of the Junior Charity League were on duty in the children's room each day. They were a wonderful help with the children.

It is most gratifying to see the response that the children have made to the room. They are fascinated with the appearance of the room and they love the books. Although the books were already at the library, the children could not examine them, because they were kept in such crowded quarters. Today they spend hours looking at the books and exclaiming at their beauty.

Because of the new interest in the children's room, the book collection is proving too small. If you would like to do something for your library why not give us the money to purchase a book for this room. A beautiful children's book, bound in the lasting buckram binding can be purchased for approximately $3.00. Think how happy you will make many boys and girls by buying a book for the library.

If you have not visited the library lately, we give you a most hearty invitation to come by and see the children's room and you will share the opinion expressed by many, who have seen it, that this is a most wonderful and worthwhile project, undertaken by the Junior Charity League.

Women Of Church Attend Meeting

Mrs. Statham Crosby, Mrs. Earl Hunter, Miss Mary Seddon and Miss Rose Guice of the Waterproof Presbyterian Church visited in Natchitoches where they attended the 43rd annual meeting of the Women of the Church of Red River Presbytery.

An unusually fine program was presented with such speakers as Miss Lena Reynolds, missionary to the Belgian Congo, Mrs. R. P. Richardson, former missionary to China, Mrs. J. V. McConnell, past president of the Women of the Church of Red River Presbytery, Dr. Edward D. Grant, director, department of institutions, state of Louisiana and Dr. W. L. McLeod, minister chairman, southern division of Presbyterian Negro work campaign.

Flower Show In Waterproof

The annual flower show of the Waterproof Garden Club will be held on May 5 from 3 to 6 p.m. in the Waterproof High School gymnasium. Each member is required to make one arrangement, but will be permitted to enter one arrangement in any two classes. Any person who is a member of the Waterproof community may enter an exhibit limited to one arrangement in any two classes. Neighboring Garden Clubs have been invited not only to attend, but to participate in exhibiting one arrangement.

THAT SPECIAL CHILD

Your youngster may be superb at the piano or special recitations, but don't torture him when company is present. The parent who is selfish enough to depend on a youngster to entertain his grown-up friends is inconsiderate to say the least. If your youngster is gregarious and likes to perform for adults, by all means encourage him. But don't embarrass him to do an act that he is unwilling to do in the presence of strangers.

Mayo Home Is Setting For Lovely Prenuptial Party

On Saturday afternoon, Miss Dorothy Horton, bride-elect of Fred L. Hudson, was honored at a pre-nuptial party given by Mrs. Henry C. Mayo, Jr., and Mrs. R. B. Bailey in the Mayo home on the Country Club road.

Beautiful arrangements of pink roses and orange blossoms interspersed with green fern were placed at vantage points throughout the reception rooms.

The bride-to-be was wearing a becoming costume of gray linen with touches of chartreuse and black. Her accessories were also black. Her dress was complimented by a corsage of split pink carnations.

Adding to the gaiety of the occasion, was a pre-arranged taxi which arrived with Mrs. Rhes McCask, Jr., dressed to represent a rural cousin, who brought ridiculous advice to the bride and preposterous items of apparel for the bride's trousseau.

Individual - iced cakes were served with squares of frozen cream and mints to the following guests: Mrs. J. M. Harrell; Mrs. H. L. Hudson; Mrs. J. L. Works; Mrs. Joe Hudson; Mrs. Hazel Switzer; Mrs. Joe Ragland; Miss Rosalie Joyner; Miss D. L. O. Puckett; Mrs. D. C. Metcalf.

Mrs. Effie Horton; Mrs. Clifford Sellers; Mrs. J. G. Hicks; Mrs. Leon Jones; Mrs. S. M. Corwell; Mrs. Ruth Henry; Mrs. Stanley Wyatt.

On Thursday evening Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, president of the YWCA board, gave the devotional at the meeting of the Business and Professional Girls' Club. Her talk was on "positive thinking." Miss Frances Barnes was the guest speaker for the club meeting and her talk was most informative and interesting.

Sue Hunt, Eugene Hardin Exchange Wedding Vows

A lovely wedding of April was that of Miss Sue Elva Hunt and Mr. Claude Eugene Hardin which was solemnized Saturday, April 18, at 7:00 o'clock in the evening at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe. The Rev. Jaroy Weber, pastor, officiated at the impressive double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hunt of West Monroe and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hardin of Sterling.

Forming a beautiful setting for the exchange of nuptial vows were slender white cathedral tapers burning from a myriad candelabra against a background of southern smilax. Garlands of asparagus sprengeri and southern smilax were tastefully arranged along the choir rail with baskets of white gladioli. The aisles were marked with candles, majestic daisies and satin ribbons.

Preceding the ceremony a concert of organ music was rendered by Mrs. Raymond Spence of Nashville, Tenn., who accompanied the soloists, Miss Anne Roberts as she sang "The Pledge" and "Wedding Prayer" and Mr. John Oldenberg who sang "Through the Years."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a wedding gown of nylon tulle paneled with chantilly lace over taffeta. The bodice of the dress was trimmed with seed pearls and had tight-fitting sleeves. A fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from her crown. Hat of nylon lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade-shaped bouquet of pink cymbidium orchids and valley lilies tied with rose point nylon tulle and white satin. Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, the bride's cousin, was matron of honor. She wore an orchid nylon tulle gown with a stole attached to one side with an orchid tulle. On her head was a becoming plait of tri-color tulle and orchid tulle. Her bouquet was of orchid tulips and croton leaves.

Miss Billie Blazier, Miss Betty Vaughn, Miss Anne Roberts and Mrs. Richard Texada of Alexandria were bridesmaids. They wore

Three Ladies Are Honored At Lovely Tea

Sunday afternoon, April 19, from 3 until 5 o'clock Dixie Chapter, No. 179, Order of the Eastern Star, honored Mrs. Pat White, district deputy grand matron of District No. 6, Mrs. Sally Zuffall, grand representative of California, and Mrs. Hazel DeWees at an informal tea in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Goodwin, 1219 Park Avenue.

Each room was filled with high crystal bowls of roses, sweet peas and other spring flowers, which enhanced the beauty of Mrs. Goodwin's home.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Nina Evans, Mrs. Pat White, Mrs. Sally Zuffall, Mrs. Hazel DeWees, Mrs. Eddie Goodwin and W. B. Evans.

The guest book was presented over by Mrs. Helen Barber. The dining room was unusually beautiful. The table was covered with an Irish linen cloth appliqued with red roses. Calla lilies and roses artistically arranged in an unusual crystal bowl formed the centerpiece. Red tapers burned on each side and reflected on the ladies serving. Mrs. Dorthe Schmidt and Mrs. Myra Hessick alternated at the punch bowl, while Mrs. Dottie Blass and Mrs. Manell Nield served coffee. Sandwiches and cookies were served by Ruby Simpson, Eunice Lee and Willie Pumphrey.

During the afternoon scores of friends called and enjoyed a visit with the honored guest. Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom McKay, Archibald, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lowery, Winnboro, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Thames and Mr. and Mrs. A. Stephens, Mangham, La.; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Evans, Winnboro, La.; and Mrs. Miller, Elizabeth, La.

Handbag Should Be Kept Neat

Are you aware that the contents of your handbag are often visible to other people?

A glance into your handbag as you open it, whether casual or intentional, can give someone a glimpse of your true personality. It can make someone think: What a neat, well-organized, dainty girl—she must carry that into her whole way of living!

If you open up your handbag this minute, will you see everything in its place? Will cosmetics be kept together in their own little purse or will powder soil the bag's lining because your compact is lost on the bottom? Can you find your keys at once?

You save the beauty of your bag and its accessories by having a durable case for each item or group of items that you carry. Beautiful matched sets in leather, with suede linings ranging in colors from pink through turquoise, are available to you—key case, French-style wallet, compact and glasses case. They can give you style every time you use them.

Spring Fashion Preview Given By College Coeds

Fashion-wise high school visitors on the Northeast State campus Tuesday reflected generous interest in the style show sponsored by the Home Economics Department under direction of Miss Frances Kelso. It proved a delightful feature in the annual senior day when students from schools throughout this area are guests of the local college.

Spring frocks answered the demands for every occasion whether the event called for a tailored, a smart afternoon dress or an evening formal.

Twenty-one Northeast coeds modeled these attractive styles provided by Mrs. Ada Gruber as Stocker Fontelieu served as commentator for the program which was broadcast over the radio. The style show is becoming a traditional feature of Senior Day and it proves a big attraction for both men and women. Background music played by Mrs. Robert T. Bliss, organist, added a professional note to the parade of fashions.

Wearing handmacher favorites were Misses Jo Ann McDonald, Dorothy Works and Georgia Rape. Miss McDonald chose a chic grey patterned worsted with a modeled jacket and a red linen hat trimmed with black velvet. Miss Works' mauve weathervane suit was accented by narrow moulded lines and a jacket buttoning right up to the collar. A matching hat with taupe veiling gave an additional dash of attraction. Miss Rape introduced separates, and again the material was weathervane. White, moss green and black were combined delightfully in the full skirt, blazer and blouse.

Sheers calmed the spotlight for several models. Miss Shirley Aron donned a master sheer with a captivating short cape trimmed in white linen and scroll design of white, red and gold beads.

Miss Jimmie Sue Rains wore an original in yellow and black printed polished cotton. The tucked vest and little girl collar marked the waist that joined a full skirt.

Miss Joyce Currie's blond features were heightened by the pink salyna frock whose fitted bodice was featured by a low neckline with embroidered flowers. A luscious pink candy braid straw hat was trimmed in iridescent shells.

A woven check cotton with the new dropped shoulders was worn by Miss Dolores Roberts. The bodice emphasized tucking and pleating to the hip line. She chose a wheat colored Milan straw pill box hat.

Tucks were repeated in the mauve chambray modeled by Miss a draped effect, with heavily beaded floral design in the center front.

Miss Doll Batman was in gray pure silk organza with a minutely tucked bodice and floating skirt which fell over a crisp taffeta slip. She wore a wide brim sailor hat in black rough straw.

Another exquisite pure silk organza was chosen by Miss Patsy Wilson. It was in navy woven stripe with rhinestone buttons to the waistline. The bouffant skirt was worn over its own taffeta slip.

Miss Louise Hollis looked distinctive in an imported black dotted swiss over black organza. The low neckline of the sleeveless bodice was encircled with a pleated double collar trimmed in dainty lace. Both the bodice and bouffant skirt were dotted with rhinestones.

A lovely short formal was worn by Miss Tommie Ann Day. The white linen dress was accented by heavy embroidery in crystal beads around the neckline. The fitted bodice and full flared skirt were beaded intermittently in crystals. Her stole was lined with satin to match the narrow satin belt.

Black linen, buttoned from neck to hemline, appealed to Miss Phyllis Nastasia. A white pique vest with lace and rhinestone applique gave extra smartness. She wore a pique ever-popular head-bugging hat.

Miss Elaine Roberson modeled a yarn-dyed cotton accenting a white, pink and black polka dot bodice with Barrymore lapels on the halter. The stole was lined with the polka dot material and her skirt was flared.

In pale blue linen was Miss Vonette Austin. The collar formed a dropped shoulder effect, and the flared skirt had dainty lace appliques and embroidery. Her hat repeated the lace and rhinestones.

For an afternoon party or tea dance Miss Betty Gambrell was wearing a natural colored cotton lace dress over a taffeta slip. The fitted sleeveless bodice featured a high mandarin neckline that tied in the back. A royal blue cummerbund gave an enchanting note to the full skirt.

A white linen short formal was worn by Miss Marjorie Gulley. The fitted bodice formed a bare shoulder neckline with a narrow strap. The pencil slim skirt was trimmed with jeweled buttons from the neck to the hip line, and the stole fell gracefully over the shoulder line.

Another short formal with pencil slim skirt was worn by Miss Melba Burgess. The bodice had a scalloped neckline fashioned to give

Odom-Goss Wedding Is Solemnized In Tallulah

The first Baptist Church of Tallulah was the scene of the wedding Saturday at 5 p. m. of Miss Alma Goss and William L. Odom. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Goss of Tallulah. Mr. Odom is the son of Mrs. W. L. Odom and the late Mr. Odom of Bernice.

The Rev. Shirley Briggs, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Music was provided by Mrs. Edwin Courtney who played "Plaisir D'Amour" during the ceremony and several pre-nuptial selections.

Mr. Dallas Goss, the bride's brother of San Angelo, Tex., sang "Through the Years" and "If I Could Tell You." He was accompanied by his wife who also played Claire de Lune.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a lovely aqua mist antique taffeta model featuring a brief cap sleeve and a fitted bodice. A shoulder width yoke of tulle joined the bodice in jeweled scallops. The tea length skirt was full. The bride's hat was a French shell of aqua tint lilies. Her other accessories were aqua satin pumps and matching gloves trimmed with seed pearls.

A white Bible was carried by the bride with her bouquet of white orchids centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Marvin H. Parker of Hillsboro, Tex., served the bride as matron of honor. Her dress of aqua chromespun taffeta with a fitted bodice and cap sleeves with a handsome shoulder wide scalloped neckline. She wore a hat of matching taffeta covered with French shells. Her bouquet was of yellow daisies. The bride's sister, Mrs. A. J. Szabo of Lafayette, was a bridesmaid and her dress was identical to the matron of honor. The church was beautifully decorated with yellow candles in silver candelabrum which formed an altar along the choir rail. Magnolia leaves formed a background of greenery.

The bride's mother wore a lovely model of rose lace with an orchid corsage. Mrs. Odom, the groom's mother, was attired in a blue lace dress complimented with an orchid.

Ushers for the wedding were Nelson Goss of Tallulah, brother of the bride, Van Odom of Monroe, the groom's brother, A. J. Szabo of Lafayette and Joe Oliphant of Minden.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the banquet room of the First Baptist Church.

The bride's table was covered with a handsome white satin cloth and centered with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with lilies of the valley. Shasta daisies and other spring flowers were used throughout the room.

Mrs. Johnson O. Williams of Gladewater, Tex., and Mrs. Nelson Goss of Tallulah, presided over the wedding cake. Miss Rosemary Horn presided at the guest book. Mrs. Helen Stall of Sterlington and Mrs. Dallas Goss alternated at the punch bowl. Assisting with serving were Mrs. Lamar T. Lee, Mrs. Ben Jordan, Susan and Nancy Goss.

For traveling, the bride changed to an original suit of light grey with a collar of pearls and white beads. Her suit was fitted at the waist and had a slim skirt. She used navy accessories and a white hat. Her corsage was an orchid.

The couple left on a wedding trip to Biloxi, Miss., following the reception. They will make their home in Terrell, Tex., where the groom is associated with a motor company.

The bride is a graduate of Louisiana State University and she majored in music. She is a member of the Altru Club in San Angelo, Tex., where she has taught music for the past six years.

Mrs. Odom is a graduate of Tyler Business College and is a member of the Rotary Club in Terrell.

Your Problems

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: We are an engaged couple and every time we are together there is at least one argument. We argue about our differences of opinions. We start with little spats that end with one of us breaking the engaging taffeta covered with French shells. We know that we love one another and wonder if this is a normal state? We plan to be married in June. — J. and M. J.

True love never runs smooth. Yours is a normal state that reflects anxiety and tension prior to marriage. If both of you are mature enough emotionally to accept the fact that the other has a right to his opinions, all will be well. You will learn to talk things over calmly and agree on the best opinion or whether the issue is worth arguing about.

It should not affect your marriage if you promise one another now, and live up to it faithfully, never to go to sleep without a good-night kiss.

Dear Mrs. Landers: My husband was killed in France in 1914. We had been married for almost two years and had contracted for a lovely home. Through the years I have worked and have it paid for. We have no children.

An old boy friend whom I dated before my marriage is courting me. He does not know about my marriage but suspects that there is someone else as I keep my husband's picture on the mantel. I do not love him and as he is very persistent I do not know how to make him stay away. Most of my family disapprove of him. — War Widow

Don't you think it is time you buried your husband? Paying for the home must have been quite a chore. What good is it? It is nothing but a shrine to a ghost.

Granted that this boy is no good and that you do not love him, it shouldn't be difficult to tell him that he has no chance with you and to stop wasting your time and his. But you had better be sure that your family is not protecting that precious "home" of yours from another husband and that you are not able to fall in love with him (or another man) because you are living an unhealthy life with a ghost.

It is almost 10 years since your husband's death. Better stop dramatizing your "war widow" situation and keep your mind and heart open to another marriage. You are far too young to waste your years alone.

Dear Mrs. Landers: My husband died while in service before my first child was born. I married an old boy friend who promised to love my child as though she were his own. She is 10 now, and we have a 6-year-old girl of our own. Though he has no compunction about using our government checks, he shows a marked aversion to my first child and marked partiality to the second child. It is apparent to everyone.

The child is nervous and high-strung as a result and she constantly asks me what is wrong and why her "father" does not love her. She does not know that my husband is not her father. Please help me as the situation is breaking my heart. — V. P. H.

The man should be horse whipped. His attitude can be the mental ruin of your child. She will go through life insecure and unhappy, wondering what is wrong with her. I think you made a grave mistake in paying off your husband as her father but do not think you should try to rectify it unless you consult a child-psychiatrist as it may be dangerous to do so now. Give the child all the love and attention you can. Bank her checks and let her go to a boarding school for her high school; consult a child-psychiatrist about telling her about her "father."

Tallulah P.-T. A.

Rev. Shirley Briggs was elected president of the Tallulah Parent Teachers Association at the April meeting held in the high school auditorium here. Rev. Briggs is pastor of the First Baptist Church and has been active in civic affairs since coming to Tallulah five years ago.

Mrs. H. S. Provine presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. W. Pippin and Mrs. T. A. Smith, Jr. served as secretary. The organization voted to sponsor a Little League baseball team, a feature of the summer recreation program, and to continue to sponsor the Club Scouts. The Halloween carnival and sending of a representative to Girls' State, Miss Le-Evelyn was named as representative this summer with Miss Peggy Ann King as alternate. It was also voted to cooperate with the Madison Parish Police Jury in a proposed survey of the parish by the state department of public works.

Mrs. J. H. Hamilton, as program chairman, presented Miss Gail Waugh who played a waltz by Chopin and M. A. Phillips who directed a program on "What Parents, Teachers and Teen-Agers Expect of Each Other." Mr. Phillips discussed what the school does for teen-agers and gave a summary of a questionnaire recently given high school students. Miss Bobbie Ann Oakes gave a talk, based on the questionnaire, on teenage problems. Mrs. A. M. Stewart spoke on the effect of the home on the child and Miss Betty Bentley discussed the results of a survey on "Are Parents Too Strict or Too Lax?" In conclusion, Mr. Phillips spoke briefly stressing better cooperation between parents, teachers and students for the best development of youth.

Mrs. Ruth M. Williams' fourth grade room received the award for the highest percentage of parents present.

Highest-powered ENGINE in the low-price field

plus all these other buyer benefits that only the New Chevrolet offers you!

Entirely new Styling

Strikingly new—with longer, lower lines that set a new standard of beauty for low-priced cars. Roomier, richer interiors, too.

Entirely new Powerglide*

Faster acceleration from a standing start with new automatic starting range... new power to pass in city traffic with new automatic passing range.

Entirely new Economy

The most important gain in economy in Chevrolet's history! Two great engines now offer even more economy than you have enjoyed with Chevrolet in the past.

Entirely new Safety

New one-piece curved windshield for greater visibility. New, sturdier construction. New, easier brake action and new Foot-Form brake pedal.

Entirely new Durability

Chevrolet's new Body by Fisher is strengthened throughout. New heavier door-posts and sills. New bracing in roof and framing.

Entirely new Power Steering*

Exclusive to Chevrolet in the low-price field! It permits you to park with finger-tip ease. You turn the wheel and the power unit does the work.

Pictured above, you see the great new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine—one of the most important advances in engine design in many and many a year.

New high compression! The 7.5 to 1 compression ratio is among the highest in the industry. Free-breathing carburetion, new aluminum pistons and many other features also play an important role in making this the most powerful engine in its field!

Yet, both the "Blue-Flame" engine (teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission*) and the advanced "Thrill-King" engine (in gearshift models) offer a wonderful gain in economy, too.

Why not come in and take the wheel on a demonstration drive? Why not make it soon?

*Optional at extra cost. Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine available on "Two-Ten" and "Bel Air" models only. Power Steering available on all models. (Consumption of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)

Bob, Mickey Lift Lid On Laughs In Riotous Comedy

A master stroke of casting results in Bob Hope's being teamed with Mickey Rooney in Paramount's "Off Limits," a zany comedy that has all the ingredients of humor blended into a riotous hour and thirty minutes of slambang fun. This fast-paced package of celluloid hilarity opened last night at the Paramount Theatre and the audience showed their appreciation with continuous bursts of uproarious laughter.

Funny pictures have likely been made but this reviewer can't remember when. Just imagine bubbling Bob and mugging Mickey as a pair of Military Policemen with an extra-curricular interest in prize-fighting. Add curvaceous Marilyn Maxwell and mix with Eddie Mayehoff, as a rule-book corporal who rapidly rises to the rank of captain, and you still only have a portion of the many happy ingredients of this laugh-loaded funfest.

The story races at a mile-a-minute clip with a howl every inch of the way. Hope was never better than he is as the wise-cracking fight-manager who joins the army in order to be near his newly-crowned, addle-brained champion, Stanley Clements. When the latter is turned down by the army for psychological reasons, Bob not only is stuck in the service but loses his champ to his gangster partners as well.

During the course of his training in the Military Police Bob meets Rooney, a youngster, whose one ambition is to become a fighter. Hope also meets and falls for Marilyn Maxwell, Mickey's dazzlingly beautiful aunt who hates prize-fighting.

Sprinkled throughout the effervescent antics that are provided by the exceptionally fine Ila Kanter-Jack Sher script, are three top tunes from talented songwriting team Jay Livingston and Ray Evans. Marilyn Maxwell is particularly bewitching to both the eye and ear in warbling the lilting melodies.

Joining in song with Marilyn is Hope, who puts experience and heart, not to mention his incomparable flair for comedy, into his role. Rooney's characterization as the half-pint fall-guy bent on making a name in boxing is sheer perfection, creating a sympathetic comic character that is sure to win him a host of new fans.

As produced by Harry Tugend and directed by George Marshall, "Off Limits" emerges as a film, destined to bring smiles to faces long after leaving the theater. Not enough can be said about the overall entertainment excellence of "Off Limits." Go see it for yourself!

Thomas And Lee Are Co-Starred In 'Jazz Singer'

"The Jazz Singer" Warner Bros.' new production in Technicolor of the famed story about a young man who chooses show business as a career rather than follow in the footsteps of his father, comes to the Tem Theatre on Thursday.

Starring Danny Thomas in the title role, the film also has Peggy Lee, one of the nation's leading songstresses, playing the lead feminine role. Edward Franz and Mildred Dunnock head the supporting cast of the film which was directed by Michael Curtiz.

For Danny Thomas, whose career in real life brought him to the top of the entertainment industry as a stage and night club comedian, "The Jazz Singer" will be an opportunity to top his great star role in "I'll See You in My Dreams." It was in that film, also a Warner Bros. production, that Danny, in an example of off-beat casting, essayed the straight dramatic role of Gus Kahn, fabulous songwriter of the twenties.

An immediate hit in the past, Danny Thomas became one of Hollywood's most sought-after stars. It was he himself who realized that careful selection for his follow-up to that success was so important, and many story properties were turned down before he and producer Jack L. Warner decided on "The Jazz Singer."

Gay, colorful production numbers were staged with Danny and Peggy Lee singing together. Included in the new film are the old favorites, "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover," "I'll String Along With You," "Just One Of Those Things" and "The Birth of the Blues." "This Is A Very Special Day," written by Miss Lee, will also be heard.

Louis F. Edelmann produced "The Jazz Singer" for Warner Bros.

Inside Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, April 25 — I am wondering if the final chapter has been written in the Charlie Chaplin mystery play, entitled: Has Chaplin Left America Forever? A few days ago a storm of publicity rushed all over the United States which said, in effect, that Chaplin has abandoned all hope of returning to Hollywood and that he has surrendered his United States re-entry permit in Geneva.

All this has a technical flare, and may not impress our readers. Whether Chaplin will, at some future date apply for the papers that will permit his return, is anybody's guess, even Chaplin's — but to me, such a step seems remote indeed.

It is a strange story, the story of Charlie Chaplin and his residence in the United States. In some respects it is not a pretty story. He was born in England, a British subject. He came to America, was a successful film star, amassed tremendous wealth — and yet our country, apparently, was not good enough to claim his loyalty or American citizenship. The funny part of the story is that he himself tells us that he has not been a model citizen, whether American or British. His utterances from time to time have been far to the left, leading many to charge him with having communistic leanings.

I knew Chaplin in his heyday — back when he produced "The Kid" and other hits that contributed to his rise in the movie world. To me, in those days, he was a genuinely funny person, and I, with others, accepted his success as being the result of a natural ability to amuse millions.

But as the evidence began to pile up against him in social matters, with his apparent contempt for the country that made it possible for him to succeed — I began to lose my admiration and respect for the little comedian. When he fell foul the United States immigration authorities, and the attorney general, the United States challenged his right to re-enter the country. I agreed with the millions that perhaps it is better for everybody if he doesn't return. I still feel that way about it.

The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists won my whole-hearted respect when it announced plans to take disciplinary action against members who appear as "unfriendly witnesses" before the House Un-American Activities Committee. To prove that they meant what they said, leaders of the union immediately took action against Jody Gilbert, the young screen and TV actress, who refused to tell the congressional investigators whether or not she was a member of the Communist party. I can't understand why the motion picture unions have not adopted equally drastic measures. Certainly this is a most logical way to protect the good names of the thousands of local Americans who earn their living in the show business. If it can work for the television and radio industries, it also can work for the motion picture industry.

Peppermint Zinnias Grow In Sunny Climate

Miss Mona Freeman of the movies went visiting in California's huge flower-seed growing farms last summer where she picked an armful of beautiful Peppermint Stick Zinnias and got herself photographed with a field many a gardener would like to have.

One of last spring's knock-out new flowers, Peppermint Stick was a hit with many of our gardeners and took a number of flower show awards because of its novel appearance. The mixture contains flowers in practically all Zinnia colors, with petal combinations of red and white, red and yellow, pink and white, carmine and white, orange and yellow, etc. Flowers are 3"-3½" in diameter on fine cutting stems and make excellent material for flower arrangements for the house.

Peppermint Stick plants are branching, 2'-2½' high, and grow fast just as all Zinnias do. Seeds should be planted where they are to remain, as Zinnias do not like transplanting, about ¼" deep in moistened soil. Any soil will do but the location should be full sun, and the ground thoroughly warm. First flowers will come in about 8 weeks and if blooms are kept picked the plants will bloom until frost. Peppermint Stick Zinnias look well planted with Cupid or Giant Zinnias in white, yellow or pastel, and can also be planted with the new Plummed Cockcomb Golden Fleece, which takes the same culture. Seed was a little short last year, but best reports are that a plentiful supply will be available from practically all seedmen during spring of 1953.

Now Is The Time To Sharpen Tools

Before undertaking any new plantings or changes in the garden, take stock of what you have. Do not take on more garden than you are able to take care of this summer.

Have you gone over your garden tools to see that they are clean and whole? Spades, shovels and trowels have the habit of being dull just when you need one well sharpened. Do not wait until the grass needs cutting before you have your lawn mower sharpened. If you start the season with a dull mower you will have a ragged lawn.

The Old Gardener again stresses the value of a seed and fertilizer spreader. This sturdy, all steel rubber-tired machine is just what you need for economical, accurate seeding and feeding of the lawn, be it old or new.

The rate control and shut-off located on the handle assures you of an even distribution. Hand distribution is never even and nine times out of 10 the gardener over-seeds or feeds. The spreader pays for itself the first time it is used.

Another suggested investment is a flexible steel tooth lawn rake, one generally used for raking leaves in autumn. This rake is particularly valuable for use in spring to work fertilizer and seed down into the soil where they belong.

Little or no burning of grass will result if the lawn is raked immediately after fertilizer is spread. Watering after raking is further insurance against such damage. If fertilizer remains overnight on the grass blades, burning is bound to follow. Even a heavy rain will not remove it. However, one need not worry since the burnt grass will be removed at the first mowing of the lawn.

If you are putting in a new lawn, remember that it will be only as good as its foundation. Grass will grow most anywhere—but unless the soil is prepared to a depth of six inches or more, humus of some sort and fertilizer worked in prior to seeding, the results will be disappointing.

Selecting a reliable seed mixture, scratching it in very lightly after sowing and never letting the seed bed dry out, is the advice of the Old Gardener. The type of seed you choose will depend upon how the lawn is to be used and also upon the amount of sun or shade.

Remember that creeping bent is not for a playground. A mixture strong in fescue is best where children are playing.

While your summer and fall perennials are coming, prepare the soil in the shady garden by very deep digging and removing all the roots. It is well to remove some of the trees if they are too thick, anyway. Leave the dogwoods to themselves and do not try to dig right underneath them, for they are always difficult to grow things under because of their shallow root system. If the areas you wish to cultivate or plant are of any size at all, then the tractor with the subsoiler about which we talk so much in the column will be the very most economical thing you can use. If it is absolutely impossible to cultivate where you wish to grow plants this season, it is not impossible to establish beds of plants by digging as much as you can and removing the roots and then simply hauling in good soil and humus and spreading it right over the top and planting in it.

Taised beds of flowers will look beautiful in the woods. The little extra height makes beds of flowers look twice as important as flat ones do. Use logs or stones to make the edges of the beds and then you will be able to plant the tiny wild flowers you will want in the garden when fall comes around again.

Some of the plants you can still get and plant for flowers this year are: columbine, leopard's-bane, day lilies, geum, coral-bells, cardinal flower, physostegia, spiderwort, hosta, cimicifuga. You can get bulbs of red spider-lilies and strobilias when June comes around, and they will do very well planted in the shade if it is not evergreen shade that keeps the winter sun from reaching the foliage and developing it. That big pink spider-lily sometimes advertised as Hall's amaryllis or Lycoris squamigera will be advertised this summer in the catalogues and newspapers, too, and it will bloom in the shade for you in late July or early August and will be the most stunning thing in any garden during this

Southern Gardener

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

You can still do something with those shady spots in the garden right now. The shade will protect the plants you set out and allow you to go right ahead with planting and developing your shady garden. Of course, you will wait till fall and winter to plant the broadleaf evergreens, a n d trees and the spring flowering perennials and bulbs which thrive in the shade, but you can lay your plans and lay off your little walks and the beds you will want for patches of this and that choice shade loving wild flower. Moreover, you can still get plants of the late summer and fall blooming perennials and set them out when they come within the next few weeks and still have them in bloom this season.

It is always a good thing for us Southerners to establish contact with some of the nurserymen in the Northern States so that we can order plants from up there when things have out and developed too far for our Southern nurserymen to ship any longer. In the New England states, the season is way behind us, and the fine perennial nurseries up there have some of the best plants in the world for gardens.

Naturally, we have to order only those things we know to be heat and drought resistant, for the delphiniums in those northern catalogues will only shrivel up and die after one blooming down here. That is what they will do for most of us, at least, in spite of the fact that some Southern gardeners are willing to build shades over them and to coddle them like they would orchids. It will not be too surprising to hear that some one has them in an air conditioned greenhouse in the Southern States!

While your summer and fall perennials are coming, prepare the soil in the shady garden by very deep digging and removing all the roots. It is well to remove some of the trees if they are too thick, anyway. hot season when everything is in the midsummer doldrums — including the gardener.

The physostegias mentioned above are about the garden's toughest plants. If you object to their magenta tones — of the common one, that is, you will be pleased to find that there are now some varieties in the perennial catalogues that are more nearly pink. However, remember that magenta is not bad when seen in the shade and that Nature has many such pink purple plants in her shady gardens, and you think they are handsome.

The new white physostegia called "Summer Snow" is a gorgeous flower which lightens up the shade in mid-summer and looks as fresh as you please even through droughts. These physostegias may seem a bit weedy, but this one does not. The best known variety of the improved pink kinds is "Vivid," a low September bloomer. "Summer Glow" and "Rosy Spire" are two other you will see in the catalogues. We emphasize these plants here because you can create a real patch of color with them this year.

Oh, yes; don't forget the cardinal flower for wetish places. It is listed under its botanical name, Lobelia cardinalis.

The Home Shift

With Mildred Swift

Television is the talk of the town with our two stations opening here this summer. Mr. Joyce, Mr. Aycock and I spent Tuesday in Baton Rouge with outstanding television instructors.

There's one very important point we learned from this workshop, and that is — if we're no good there's a little button on the set where you can turn to another station mighty quick. But — we're going on both our local television stations when they go on the air. You can tell us just how good or how bad we are, bearing in mind, please that we're not trained actors.

The old sign of thunder in February brings frost in April, came to pass this year. Cool nights bring out worms. They sneak out and do their dirty work at night, cutting your plants off at the ground. That's why we poison late in the afternoon. Start work when you see the first signs. Here is the poison, 1½ tablespoons of Paris Green, 2 pounds of bran or shorts, 1 pint water, ½ cup of molasses or syrup. Mix in 1½ morning and apply late in the afternoon.

If the leaves of your azaleas are still yellow, spray with iron sulphate. Use two teaspoons to a gallon of water. This can be bought at seed stores and nurseries. Lack of iron or magnesium is usually the cause of yellow leaves. You applied Epsom Salts earlier for magnesium, or at least I recommended it to you. There are other causes of yellow leaves — starvation because you haven't fertilized each year, or poor drainage; or the shrub is too deep in the ground. We add mulch every year and unless you set your plants high when you plant them, soon the roots are too deep. In the latter case, transplant next year and raise the shrub. Azaleas must have their roots close to the top of the ground.

Large containers for potted plants are pretty expensive. Jenny Reynolds solved this problem by buying number two zinc tins, painting them white and encasing a small conventional design on all four sides. They are really lovely. I'm sure she got holes in the bottom before planting so as to have drainage.

Alice Silverstein gave me several plants of a tropical looking tree. Mrs. Jaffey gave me two this year. Irene Reid first introduced this plant in Monroe. She calls it the "Finger Plant" because the leaves look just like a hand. It's a "spilly" kind of tree, doesn't grow very large, has interesting seed pods and dies back in the winter. It's different, looks lovely in a wide bed placed about four feet in front of the screen planting and faced down with old fashioned bridal wreath. Mrs. Silverstein, Mrs. Jaffey and I will save all our small plants next year and give them to those interested.

You can safely plant your caladium bulbs now. Also summer seed such as petunias, moonflower, ageratum, tithonia, torenia, cosmos, African golden daisy, sweet alyssum, four o'clock, sunflower, portulaca, marigold, petunia, zinnia and balsam. May is planting month for hibiscus. Don't forget moss rose (Portulaca). This is such a gay little plant during the summer. It requires little care and thrives during a drought, reseeded and coming back year after year.

Mrs. Harry Moore, 413 North 3rd, West Monroe, has such a lovely shaped bed planted against the back of the Baptist Church. The iris have been beautiful. In front of these she has shirley poppies, and calandulas with a pansy border. I hope the iris are still in bloom today for you to see. Evelyn has about fifty or more varieties. ## Ivy Can Be Good Grass Substitute

Written for AP Newsfeatures

Every season you hear about the frustrated gardener. He's the one who pitches his hoe over the back fence and takes up golf of fishing.

This bitter Burbank can't get more than a struggling few blades of grass to grow where he wants a velvety lawn. He has tried expensive grass mixtures, special fertilizers—everything. He's disgusted.

It's easy to sympathize with this character, because there are places where grass just won't grow. For instance: (1) steep slopes, (2) areas near buildings which never get sunlight, or (3) under trees where the grass simply has too much competition from tree roots.

A ground cover is the answer. It will grow in such places and has the added advantage—attractive to a golfer or fisherman—of never needing mowing. Raymond P. Korhobo, ornamental horticulture specialist at Rutgers, suggests English Ivy, Myrtle or Pachysandra.

To get a good stand of any of these, here's all you do, he says. Dig the soil about 6 inches deep and rake thoroughly, removing any fibrous roots. Apply about 25 pounds of 5-10-5 fertilizer to each thousand square feet while the ground is being turned.

Use a hose to saturate the soil if it doesn't rain. This puts the fertilizer into solution and keeps it from injuring the roots of ivy plants. Buy well-rooted plants in pots at least a half inch after putting in the plants. On a steep slope use foot-long cuttings taken in early spring from new growth on an established planting. Potted plants spread much faster to cover the ground and can be planted any time the ground can be worked.

Plant English Ivy 18 inches apart; Myrtle or Pachysandra, 10 inches. If the ground is level apply a mulch of peat moss to a depth of mulch with salt hay about an inch deep. Keep the peat moss or salt hay moist. Be extra sure about keeping the area well mulched the first year, Korhobo urges. After a good mat of ground cover has formed you can cut out rooted runners to plant in other areas that need similar treatment or give them away to your neighbors.

Plants Moved From Garden Suffer Shock

Whenever the roots of a growing plant are disturbed, in transferring it from one location to another, surgical shock is suffered by the plant. While plants recover from operations more quickly than animals, it will pay the gardener to take certain precautions to lessen the shock, and speed recovery from it.

Research scientists have studied the procedure for many years, and the diagram above gives their recommendations in graphic form. Some of them may differ from the practices you have followed, notably the advice against pruning roots or top growth. In the case of green plants, many tests have proved this advice to be sound, however.

If you grow your own plants, stir a handful of plant food in a bucket of water and pour it on the soil a week before you transplant them. They should be watered well the day before they are moved.

On the following day prepare a starter solution from a soluble plant food or by hanging 4 ounces of dry plant food in a cloth bag in a gallon of water over night. Take the plants and starter solution to the garden.

Make a hole for the plant large and deep enough to hold its roots without crowding. Mix with soil

Shading is good practice when plants are succulent, when soil and air are dry and when sun is hot.

Rev. H. P. Sampson Will Head Baptist Group

Rev. H. L. Sampson, pastor of Parkview Baptist Church of Monroe, has been elected president of the newly-organized district three, Louisiana Baptist convention. This group was formed last Monday night and is composed of over seventy Baptist churches located in Caldwell, Morehouse, Ouachita Parish and Trenton Baptist Associations.

The new group will cooperate with the Louisiana Baptist and Southern Baptist Conventions according to the constitution of this group, its object shall be "To awaken and stimulate among the churches the greatest possible activity in missions, education, benevolence and evangelism; to cultivate a closer co-operation among the churches and to promote harmony of feeling and concert of action in advancing the interests of the Master's Kingdom.

The group will work together in supporting a district program of missions with a superintendent of missions to coordinate this activity at the direction of the district convention of churches.

This new district program is in keeping with suggestions offered by the Louisiana Baptist convention to better bring the work of the denomination to the local church level.

Rev. Earl C. Whitsett, pastor of the new convention, Rev. H. M. Roach, recording secretary; Rev. Vester Headrick, Fairbanks, treasurer; Mr. Melvin Bradley, West Monroe, S. S. Supt.; Mr. Frank F. Boner, 303 Jack McEnry St., Monroe, T. U. Director; and Mr. Irby Cox, Monroe, music director.

GRAY OR BLUE?

BALDWIN, Miss (UP) — The sign on a lonely grave in rural Prentiss County reads, "Unknown Unidentified Soldier." It marks the resting spot of a man killed in the battle of Brice's Crossroads five miles west of the town in 1864. Oldtimers swear that the man was a Confederate, but it's almost as likely that a Yankee was buried there.

Ridge Ave. Church To Launch Big Program

The Ridge Avenue Baptist Church of West Monroe will observe its 13th anniversary Sunday by launching a ten year building program. The building plans, voted unanimously by the church calls for an auditorium with a seating capacity of 1000 and educational buildings to take care of a Sunday School enrollment of 1,500.

Emmett F. Brown with the Tennessee Gas Company has been made chairman of the finance committee by the church to lead the ten year campaign. Other members of the committee are A. C. Saxon, J. E. Muckleroy, E. F. DeLoach, Harold Coon, W. A. Pennington, A. L. DeLoach, Mrs. J. B. Salley and Mrs. Fred Hayton. The first service conducted in this church was on April 28, 1940 under a little tin top shed. A church was soon organized with 69 charter members and called Rev. A. T. Mitchell pastor.

Rev. Mitchell says about the church, "Our greatest investment has not been in nice buildings and gains in church membership, but our investment in youth. We have had many fine Christian youth to enter the ministry and other fields of Christian service."

Rev. Louis Wilhite, one of the young ministers to go out from this church will preach the anniversary sermon at 11 a.m.

SWEETWATER, Tex. (UP) — Burglars broke into the home of Dill Pace and stole one shoe from each of 15 pairs.

Bible Comment

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

There are many things in the two Epistles that Saint Paul wrote to the Christians at Corinth, the longest in the New Testament. But much in the letters has to do with the dissensions that arose so early in the church there. Particularly noteworthy is Paul's comment and counsel concerning these church quarrels, and especially his commendation of Christian love as the one great means of overcoming them. This epistle of love rose to its greatest height in the 13th chapter of the First Epistle.

Whether the dissensions at Corinth amounted to actual quarrels or not, we cannot tell. But the difference of opinion and the divisions were evidently very sharp. Throughout the long history of Christian churches, quarrels have frequently been bitter and sharp, degrading the institution that in its rightful organization ought to embody the spirit of the Lord whom it professes to serve (Ephesians 1:22-23).

It is when honest differences lead to intolerance, and when those who profess to hold the truth do not hold it in love (Ephesians 4:15) or in righteousness (Romans 1:18), that differences become the occasion of quarrels and ill will with the result that both love and truth are no longer present.

The dissensions among the Corinthian Christians were very much like those that have appeared again and again in modern churches. Who has not seen a church divided about the merits, or demerits, of some minister? One knows, also, how often such dissensions have been sharp and strong. At Corinth they were divided over the respective merits of Paul, Apollos and Peter. Some even adhered to Christ, not as possessing him, but as the leader of a party (1 Corinthians 1:11-13).

Against all this Paul proclaimed the all-inclusiveness of Christ as "the power of God and the wisdom of God" (verse 24). I believe that it might be said that sharp differences of opinion may be there, but can be no quarrel where the Christ-like spirit prevails.

Other dissension among the Corinthian disciples concerned matters of conduct and the problems that arose in following the Christian way of life in a pagan community. Here again Paul proclaimed the tolerance born of love, the freedom of the individual conscience, modified by an expedient regard for the consciences of others (1 Corinthians 10:23-24).

But over it all is 1 Corinthians 13, of which more will follow.

"Happy Birthday" was sung by all Nomads for the following: Callie Crow and Naomi Paulin.

REDS TWIST IDEA OF HEAVEN
HONG KONG (AP) — Just before French Catholic Sister Marie Lebaron of Noyant was expelled by the Chinese Communists she was again accused of "murdering orphans" in Nanking orphanage. Although weary from 20 months in a red jail Sister Marie still denied the charge. Her tormentor finally closed the case by saying: "We know you killed those babies. You had already baptised them and you wanted to populate Heaven with them."

Sister Marie told of the episode on her arrival this month.

Bible Words to Live by

ROMANS 8:28 — "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose."

Job was not the only man who discovered that words have a profound influence upon the human spirit. The purpose of God in revealing his truth to the souls of men has preserved to us an available library of divine wisdom which moves the hearts of men toward righteousness. "The pattern of sound words" to which Paul advised his young friend, Timothy, to cling, is a pattern for every Christian.

Belonging as I personally do to a communion of the Christian Church that stresses the Sovereignty of God, here is a great verse. In the universe of stars and planets about us we cannot conceive that order and meaning are not its first law. Within the souls of men it would be impossible to worship a God of caprice. The thought of a Deity both all-powerful and all-loving gives hope and courage to the heart of every sufferer.

P.T.A. Officers Are Installed

The Collinston P.T.A. met Wednesday evening in the school library with 32 members present. The officers for 1953-54 were installed with Mrs. Leon Simpson as installing officer, Mrs. E. J. Jones, president; Mrs. Jack Waldrop, vice - president; Mrs. T. F. Eldridge, Jr., secretary; Mrs. David Pipes, treasurer.

Mrs. R. O. Richards presided at the business session which Mrs. Simpson opened with prayer. Mrs. Dale Lowrey announced that the baccalaureate service will be held at the Collinston Baptist Church May 17 and the commencement exercises will be held in the school auditorium on May 22.

Mrs. W. B. Puckett and Mrs. Jimmy Watson won the room count. Mrs. Richards turned the meeting over to Mrs. Jones who appointed the following committees for 1953-54: budget and finance, Mrs. A. L. Harper; Mrs. David Pipes, Mrs. Lucille Puckett and Mrs. W. T. Fontenot; program, Mrs. Williamson Pipes; Mrs. Dale Lowrey, Mrs. Louise Keller and Mrs. Frank Nichols; grounds, Mrs. J. G. Pyron, Mrs. Robert Page and Mrs. R. O. Richards; hospitalities, Mrs. A. J. Tarver.

This was the final meeting of the year. The next meeting to be held September 16. Delicious refreshments were served to the 32 members present by the hospitalities committee, Mrs. J. G. Pyron, Mrs. R. O. Richards, Mrs. Helen Howell, Mrs. Eugenia Keller and Mrs. Roy Carter.

Broiler sandwiches are a favorite for sun worshippers. They may be made in a jiffy and rushed out to the patio where the sun is shining in all its glory. Halved hamburger buns covered with ripe olives sliced from the pits and topped with a slice of Swiss cheese, popped under the broiler and broiled until the cheese becomes bubbly, never get monotonous. No ripe olive and cheese combination does.

MANDRAKE TO THE MAGICIAN BY LEE FAY & PHIL DAVIS

HUNDREDS OF FEET IN THE AIR, THEY SUDDENLY SLIP FROM THE COLOSSAL HAND--

WE'RE FALLING INTO SOMETHING--
--A BOTTLE!

Uh! I THOUGHT WE WERE FALLING TO THE GROUND!

IS HE DOING THIS TO PROTECT US-- OR TO COLLECT US --LIKE BUGS?

WILL WE EVER--CAN WE EVER--GET OUT?

WHO KNOWS? LOOK--THAT RING! I'LL BET IT'S TRANSMITTING A SIGNAL!

--WE'RE BEING EXAMINED BY THE OTHER ONE--THE FEMALE.

LISTEN TO THEM RUMBLING--LIKE THUNDER. THEY SEEM TO BE HAPPY ABOUT SOMETHING. THEY'RE LAUGHING!

Oh--NOW WHAT?

LOOK--CAN YOU SEE--HIGH UP THERE IN THE SKY?

THE BOTTLE IS MOVED SUDDENLY, AS THOUGH THE HOLDER WAS EXCITED OR SURPRISED-- ABOVE, FAR IN THE DISTANCE, AND GLEAMING IN THE SUN--A HUGE SPACE SHIP!

Somebody Ought to Muzzle Her!

JUDY, YOU SNAP AT ME AND SNARL AT ME-- BUT YOU DON'T MAKE SENSE! IN WORDS OF ONE SYLLABLE, WHAT HAVE I DONE?

PETE, THE TROUBLE IS, I DON'T KNOW HOW TO TELL YOU WHAT YOUR TROUBLE IS!

IT'S A SAD TALE!

GIVE A TRY, JUDY! WHATEVER IT IS, NAME IT--AND LET'S KICK IT AROUND AWHILE!

YOUR DENTIST CAN HANDLE A SUBJECT LIKE LIKE BAD BREATH BETTER THAN I CAN, HONEY! TALK TO HIM, WON'T YOU, PETE?

NO WONDER SHE'S BEEN HOUNDING HIM!

TO STOP BAD BREATH, I RECOMMEND COLGATE DENTAL CREAM. BRUSHING TEETH RIGHT AFTER EATING WITH COLGATE'S MAKES YOUR MOUTH FEEL CLEANER LONGER--GIVES YOU A CLEAN, FRESH MOUTH ALL DAY LONG!

COLGATE'S HAS PROVED CONCLUSIVELY THAT BRUSHING TEETH RIGHT AFTER EATING STOPS TOOTH DECAY BEST! IN FACT, BRUSHING TEETH RIGHT AFTER EATING WITH COLGATE DENTAL CREAM STOPPED MORE DECAY FOR MORE PEOPLE THAN EVER BEFORE REPORTED IN DENTIFRICE HISTORY!

LATER-- THANKS TO COLGATE DENTAL CREAM

I WOULDN'T KNOW, BUT TO A POOCH, THAT SURE LOOKS LIKE A COLGATE SMOOCH!

Brushing Teeth Right After Eating with COLGATE DENTAL CREAM
STOPS BAD BREATH and STOPS TOOTH DECAY!

Colgate Dental Cream instantly stops bad breath in 7 out of 10 cases that originate in the mouth! And the Colgate way of brushing teeth right after eating is the best home method known to help stop tooth decay!

Schoolgirl Complexion Look!

Mary Chubb, Univ. of Miami, says: "I always count on proper cleansing with Palmolive to give me softer, smoother, fresher skin!"

Jane Ward of Central High, Kansas City, says: "My skin always feels smoother and fresher after using 100% mild Palmolive."

Lola Falsbender, North-western, says: "I use no other beauty aid. Palmolive soap is 100% mild for gentle complexion care."

Barbara Loford, Univ. of New Mexico, says: "Since I changed to Palmolive's Beauty Plan, my skin has been far fresher looking."

Palmolive's Beauty Plan Is Far Better For Your Skin Than "Just Average Care" With Any Leading Toilet Soap!

Yes, Softer, Smoother Skin--that Schoolgirl Complexion Look--most women can have it within 14 days. 36 doctors proved it in tests on 1285 women. These doctors found that Palmolive's Beauty Plan is unquestionably better for your skin than "just average care" with any leading toilet soap.

So don't lose another day! Change to Palmolive's Beauty Plan--massage Palmolive's 100% mild, pure lather onto your skin for 60 seconds, 3 times a day. Rinse and pat dry. In 14 days or less, you, too, can have softer, smoother, brighter skin... because Palmolive brings out beauty while it cleans your skin!

WHAT? THE PHONE IS STILL BUSY--? I'VE CALLED SIX TIMES-- YES-OPERATOR-I'M TRYIN' TO GET MY HOUSE- THIS IS MR. JIGGS!

HELLO-MOTHER! JUST CALLED TO HEAR HOW YOU ARE-HOW IS AUNT PASTE? IS BIMMY STILL WORKING? HAVE YOU HEARD FROM UNCLE KUNKLE? YAK-YAK-YAK--

YOUR HOME PHONE IS STILL BUSY-YOU'D BETTER TAKE THE PHONE-I'M BUSY TRYING TO BALANCE OUR LEDGER--

MY ARM IS NEARLY BROKEN FROM HOLDIN' THAT PHONE- BUT I'LL TRY AGAIN!

I WANT TO TALK TO HER WHEN YOU'RE THROUGH--

HELLO-MRS. JIGGS-GLAD YOU CALLED UP-WE WERE JUST THINKING OF CALLING YOU!

I WANT TO SPEAK TO HER IF YOU EVER FINISH--

I'M NEXT!

OH-HELLO-MRS. JIGGS-YOU DARLING! HOW ARE YOU-DEAR-? I'M GLAD YOU CALLED-BEAUTIFUL-WHEN? REALLY? YOU DON'T SAY--

YOU DON'T SAY ANYTHING-EITHER-ARE YOU GOING TO TALK ALL DAY AND NIGHT--?

WELL-IT'S TIME TO GO HOME-GOOD NIGHT--

HELLO! STILL BUSY- WELL-TRY IT AGAIN--

I THINK TH' PHONE MUST BE BUSTED--

I GIVE UP-- HANG UP- IT'S TIME I WUZ HOME--

YOU BIG LOAFER! DIDN'T I TELL YOU TO CALL ME UP? CAN'T YOU DO ANYTHING YOU ARE TOLD?

OH! WHAT'S THE USE?

...STEVE CANNON AND PAPER THE WIFE HAD HELD THE MOB OFF SO FAR, BUT IT WAS FAST CLOSING IN...

BUT NOT ALL THE PEOPLE OF THE TOWN ARE SEETHING AROUND THE CAPE HOTEL! ...ONE GROUP IS ATTEMPTING TO FIGHT BACK AT THE ENEMY...

HERE IT COMES! LEAD IT LIKE WE DID ON THE CARRIERS!

YOU DID IT! HIT HIS GAS TANK!

AS THE STRICKEN AIRCRAFT FALLS, EDDIE GRAM FIGHTS DESPERATELY TO FIND AN OPEN PLACE TO LAND...THE NEAREST SPOT HE KNOWS IS THE OPEN SQUARE IN FRONT OF THE COURTHOUSE

THE MOB GATHERED THERE OPENS IN SCREAMING FRIGHT AS THE FIERY OBJECT COMES TOWARD THEM...

...AND CRASHES AT THE SPOT WHERE THE LYNCHING WAS ABOUT TO TAKE PLACE...

THE LOUD-SPEAKER AND ITS BATTLE NOISES ARE SILENT, AND IN THE MOMENT BEFORE THE CROWD COMPREHENDS THE HOAX - A LIGHT TRUCK DRIVES UP AND SLIP ELM RUNS TOWARD THE LIMP FIGURE THAT WAS THROWN FROM THE BURNING WRECK...

EDDIE! EDDIE!

1/3 LESS ARMWORK THAN CAKE MIXES! Snowdrift does it!

NEW "QUIK-BEAT" CAKE SAVES 150-300 STROKES!

YOU BEAT PLENTY WITH MIXES! Package directions for leading cake mixes call for 450 to 800 strokes. Hard work you can shortcut only with pre-whipped Snowdrift and its "Quik-Beat" Method. Delicious as only home-made cakes can be! And you'll save up to 300 strokes!

TWICE AS QUICK as most quick-method cakes! Don't beat and beat! We can promise you half the armwork and luscious cakes but only if you use pre-whipped Snowdrift and its special "Quik-Beat" recipe!

ONLY SNOWDRIFT GIVES YOU THIS "QUIK-BEAT" CAKE

2 minutes beating! 1/3 to 1/2 less work!

IMPORTANT: For best results when hand mixing, be sure to use one of these large cooking fork or...

mixing spoon with big slots

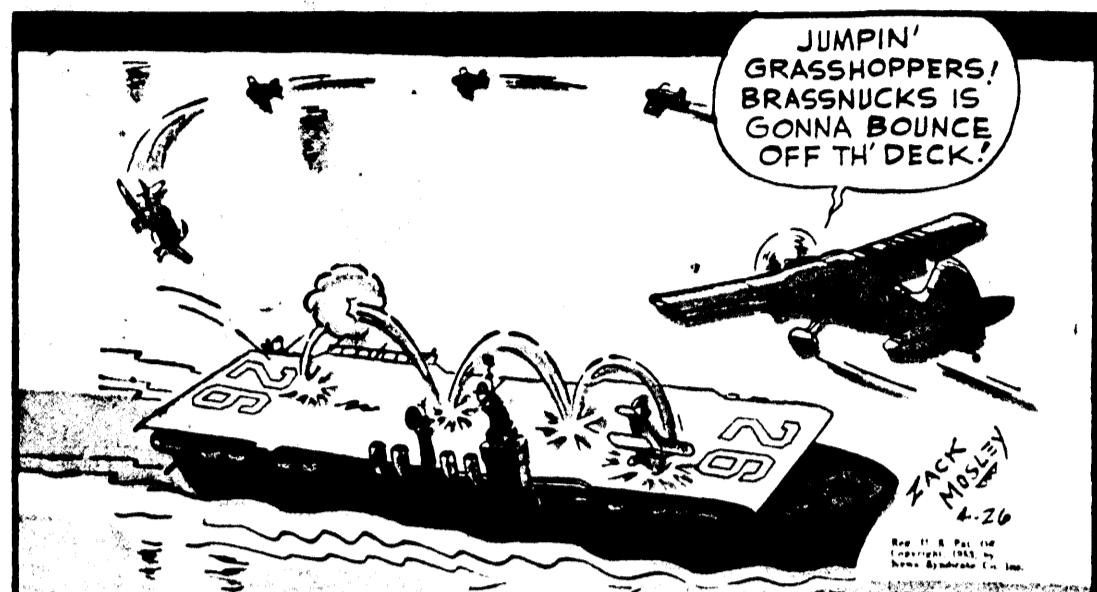

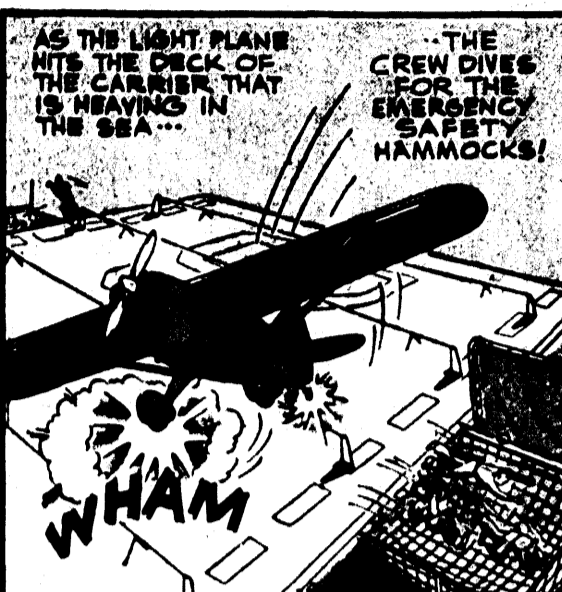

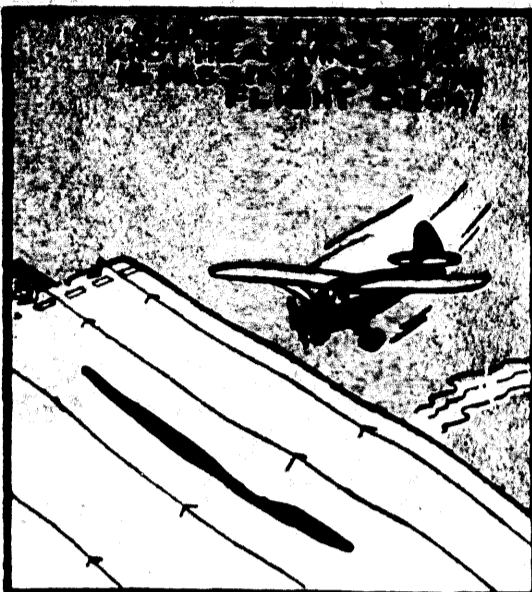

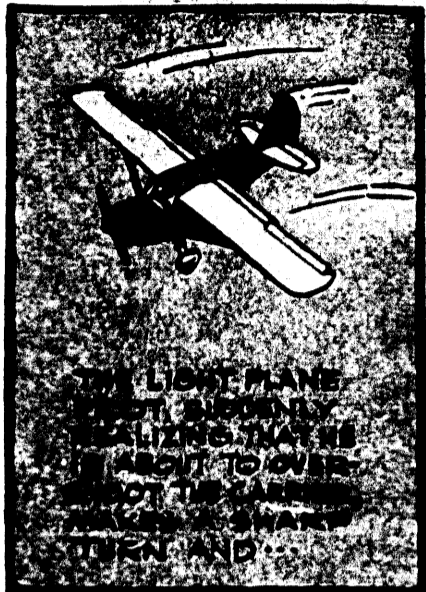

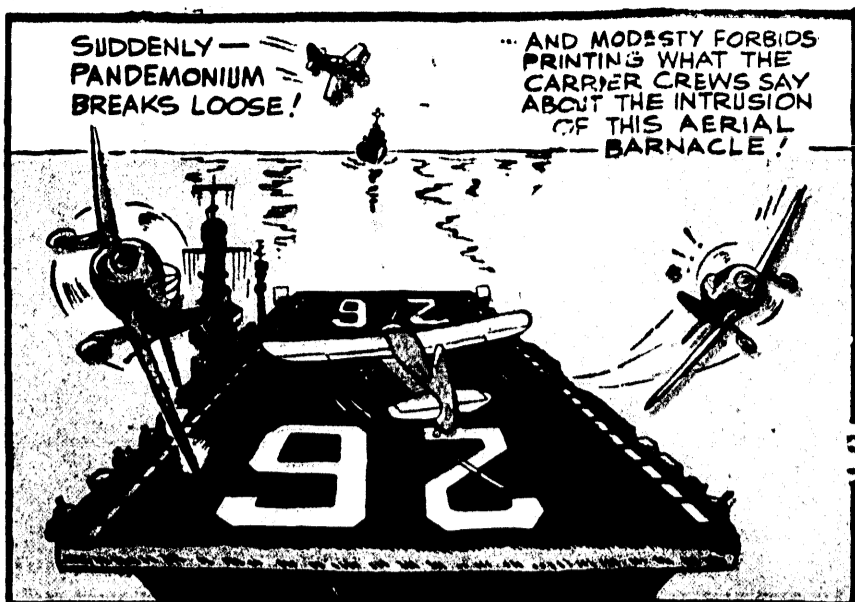

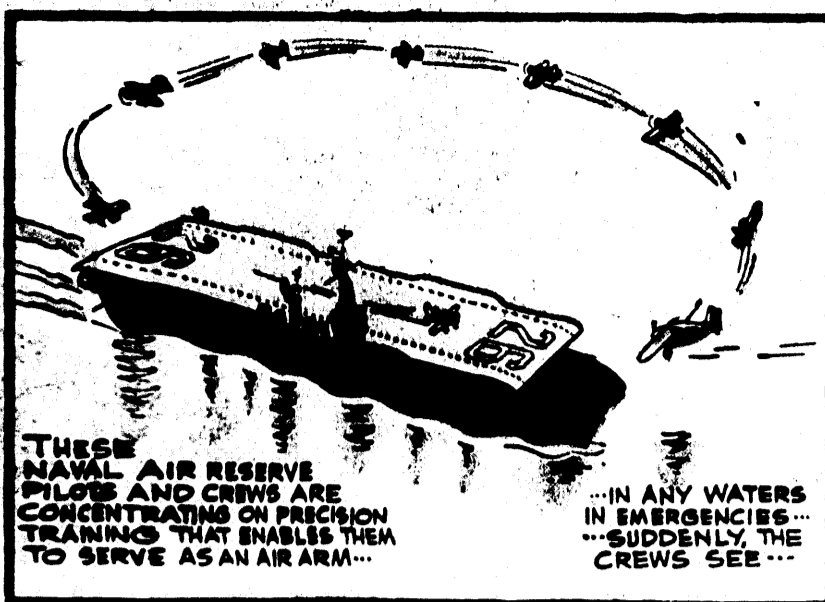

Have ingredients at room temperature
In large mixing bowl, break up...
1/2 cup SNOWDRIFT
Important: use only Snowdrift, it's pre-whipped for you
Add... 2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
Sift all together 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 teaspoons double-action baking powder over 1 1/2 cups sugar
above... 1 teaspoon salt
Blend ingredients, then beat 1 1/2 minutes, scraping sides of bowl frequently. (Count 225 strokes for hand beating. With electric mixer use low speed, scrape sides during beating, scrape beaters after beating.)
Add... 1/2 cup milk with 1 teaspoon vanilla
Blend, then beat to smooth out batter, about 75 strokes (1/2 minute, electric beater). Turn into 2 greased 8-inch layer pans, lined with paper. Swirl fork through batter. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

CHOCOLATE ALMOND ICING: Blend 5 tablespoons Snowdrift with 1/2 cup sifted cocoa. Add 3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar and 1/4 teaspoon salt-alternately with 1/2 cup milk. When smooth, add 1 teaspoon almond flavoring. Frost cake. Decorate with blanched almonds.

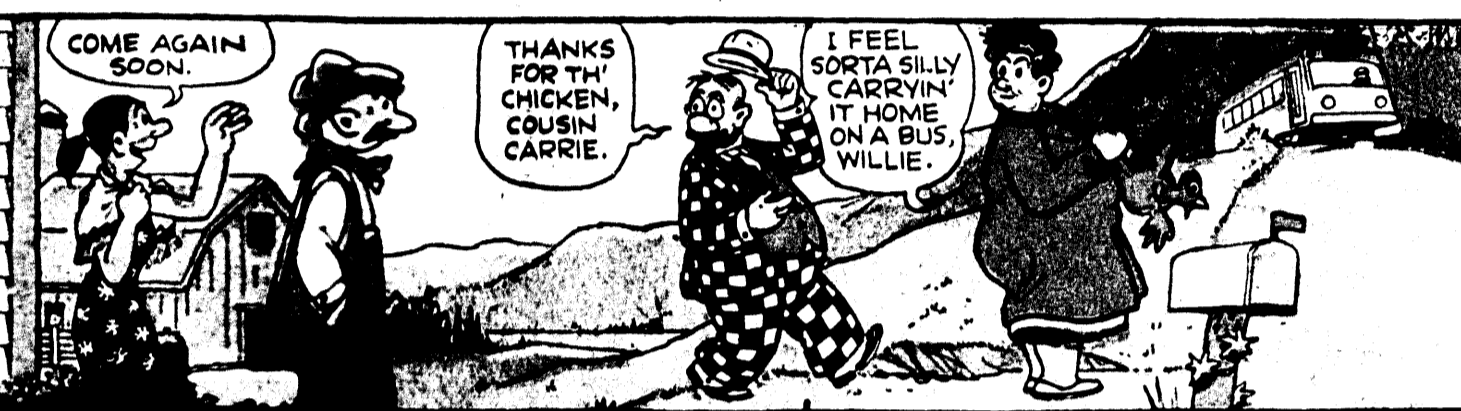

Snowdrift shortening is pre-whipped 2000 times!

GIANT SIZE

FAB

WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP

NO DULLING SOAP SCUM

WONDERFUL FOR DISHES, TOO!

New FAB WASHES WHITER

WHITER WITHOUT A BLEACH THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

BLEACH IF YOU LIKE! BUT WHETHER YOU DO OR DON'T—FAB WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN ANY OTHER PRODUCT WITH A BLEACH!

NOTHING WHITENS LIKE FAB! You'll actually find that Fab washes most of your clothes whiter without a bleach—whiter than any soap, whiter than any washing product known with a bleach in the wash water.

IF YOU ADD A BLEACH TO FAB for your few stained, extra-soiled clothes, they'll come whiter, too—far whiter than with any other product and a bleach. For new Fab's exclusive whitening action is not affected by bleach.

WHAT'S MORE—FAB OUTCLEANS any soap! Washes out dirt; leaves no dulling soap scum.

SAVE WORK! SAVE HANDS! Fab immediately loosens dirt and keeps it floating in the wash water. No soaking is needed! No dulling soap scum to rinse out—even in hardest water. And Fab is wonderfully mild to hands!

AND FAB WASHES CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP ON EARTH!

CUT DISHWASHING TIME IN HALF!

Fab soaks dishes, glasses, pots and pans shiny clean! If a bit of food clings, the dishcloth whisks it off. Just a quick rinse and dishes drain sparkling clean. No hard scouring, no wiping—with Fab!
